

'Gov't Uses Kernel of Truth to Blur Issue'

When Prince George social worker Mrs. Bridget Moran threw up her hands in frustration two weeks ago, her revelations shocked most B.C. residents.

But to one interested observer the only wonder was that Mrs. Moran and her colleagues had endured so long in silence.

Miss Ruby McKay of Victoria's former superintendent of child welfare for the province, had gone one step further than Mrs. Moran three years earlier:

For the same reasons which impelled Mrs. Moran to write an open letter to Premier Bennett charging that the whole welfare department was "sick," Miss McKay walked out on a career that had brought her international recognition.

Miss McKay continued in welfare work on the community level in a volunteer capacity. But she had decided:

"It was no longer possible in the face of the government's restrictive policies to fulfill the responsibilities of superintendence of child welfare as I saw them, toward some 5,000 children yearly, whose own parents cannot care for them."

She said then that twice the staff would not be enough.

Today, according to the last provincial budget, there are 239 social workers in the field, four less than there were in 1954, nine years ago.

Then, there was one social worker for every 5,500 people in B.C. Today the ratio is one for every 7,400.

And where the child welfare division administered to approximately 5,000 children when Miss McKay was in charge, the last annual report of the department (year ended March 1962) showed that 7,710 children had come under care.

Anonymous sources within the department have estimated the total now is nudging 10,000.

Mrs. Moran charged that there are no psychiatrists in her area, no specially-trained foster parents, no receiving or detention homes for wayward children, serious cases of neglect are being ignored and mental health facilities are badly needed.

Miss McKay is quick to point out that she has had no direct contact with welfare conditions for three years and cannot testify herself to the situation outlined by Mrs. Moran.

But she states, "I know Mrs. Moran to be a person of integrity and her sentiments have been expressed by others in the service."

Miss McKay adds that she can recall making recommendations to ease the same problems which are condemned by Mrs. Moran — 15 years ago.

Miss McKay says she can agree with government spokesmen who replied to

Mrs. Moran that most of the deficiencies of the department boil down to a shortage of trained social workers.

"This is true. But the government is using this kernel of truth to blur the issue," says Miss McKay.

She maintains that B.C. social workers who have impossible case loads of 250 to 300 each could be freed from a large part of their work through recruitment of non-university-trained personnel who have matriculation standard and an aptitude for public service.

Such people, says Miss McKay, could provide for example, a kindly, capable service to the mounting number of unemployed people who apply for social assistance on expiration of their unemployment insurance.

In March, 1962, the last month shown in the last annual report, there were 64,426 social allowance recipients. Most of these cases are simply assisted.

There is no need for the professional abilities required for instance in the case of an adoption.

Yet each initial application takes up to an hour to process, as well as a varying time for background investigation.

Miss McKay said she can recall seeing an unmarried mother whose delivery was imminent, waiting in an office filled with unemployed men.

"Unemployment is not primarily a welfare problem yet these men flood our offices and everything else has to be dropped. Hunger is a basic need," said Miss McKay.

"I am not blaming the government for unemployment. It's there. But people must be recruited for that job, people who can give kind, understanding, proper treatment, but who are not necessarily trained social workers."

(Thursday, Miss McKay discusses other ways to provide new personnel for social welfare.)

Return Smaller Than in '54 Gas Firm Says

By FRANK RUTTER

The major oil company in B.C. declared Tuesday that it gets less money for a gallon of gasoline than it did 10 years ago.

Imperial Oil Ltd. told the royal commission on gasoline prices that its return is from six-tenths of a cent to 7.3 cents a gallon lower in 1953 in every B.C. community.

The company said that its rate of return on investment is only 3 per cent in B.C.

'EUROPE JUST A TORSO UNLESS BRITAIN JOINS'

(See Page 28)

LONDON (UPI)—Federal Chancellor Ludwig Erhard called today for a united Europe with British participation within the Atlantic partnership.

Erhard made the appeal in a speech at a Mansion House banquet, given in his honor by the Lord Mayor of London.

"Europe will remain a torso unless it is joined by Great Britain," he told the gathering of British and German leaders.

"In the age of technology the British channel cannot be a line of division."

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Antonio Segni of Italy, addressing a joint session of the U.S. Congress today, urged the nations of Western Europe to unite.

"We must, as soon as possible, create the Atlantic partnership; and therefore create, within the Atlantic alliance, a united Europe," the Italian leader said.

Russian Ice Team Clobbers Canada

(Times News Services)

MOSCOW—The Soviet Olympic hockey team downed Canada's Olympic hopefuls 8-1 tonight in a pre-Innsbruck exhibition hockey game at the Sports Palace as 15,000 Muscovites howled their approval.

The Canadians used their usual slam-bang style, but the Russians used smooth teamwork to overwhelm the Canadians.

The Canadian team arrived in Moscow by air from Prague earlier today.

This was the Canadian team's first loss during its European tour. They have now won three games, tied one and lost one.

The rink at the Sports Palace may have given the Russians a slight edge. It is about 10 feet wider than most Canadian rinks.

The Canadians are to play a second game in Russia on Friday.

The Canadian goal was scored in the 11th minute of the second period by Marshall Johnston of Birch Hill, Sask.

The score at the end of the first period was 3-0, and 5-1 at the end of the second.

MOST OF YEAR REQUIRED FOR INQUIRY

B.C.'s royal commission into gasoline prices will take at least most of this year. Judge C. W. Morrow of Prince George, the sole commissioner, Tuesday said he expected public hearings will extend into at least August.

The hearings opened Monday at the Law Courts here.

They move Thursday to Nanaimo. Then begins a swing across the province to include many major centres.

Judge Morrow suggested that a second round of hearings may be held in Victoria early in April.

But, he added, he anticipates the commission's "major effort" will be when the province's law courts are clear, in the summer months.

Even if the hearings wind up in August, it will still take some time, possibly months, for the judge to prepare a report.

Youngstown, Ohio, got 16 inches of snow, heaviest in six years; Albany, N.Y., got 15 inches, heaviest 24-hour fall for any January on record; Washington, D.C., received nine inches, heaviest in more than five years.

The cold weather covered nearly all sections of the country, with temperatures generally below freezing except in southern Florida, a southern Texas, the extreme southwestern areas and along the Pacific coast.

Sub-zero cold hit sections in New England and upstate New York and in scattered parts of the midwest and in the mountain areas in the west. One of the lowest marks was 20 below zero in Lebanon, N.H. The temperature edged to near freezing in Phoenix, Ariz.

The invitation to come here was sent by the university Political Science Club, which Monday had ex-prime minister John Diefenbaker.

Club sponsor Dr. Edgar Efrat noted it is coincidental that two men who made Time Magazine covers in 1963 should both come exclusively to the university in the same week.

Seattle was Governor Wallace's last stop in a five-state tour to explain the southern viewpoint on integration.

He will hold a press conference at 11 a.m. and speak to students at 12 noon, both in the Student Union Building.

He will fly directly back to Alabama Thursday afternoon, following luncheon here.

His security guard will send representatives to Victoria to-night, Dr. Efrat said.

CANAL URGED IN MEXICO

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana proposed today the United States and other maritime nations help finance a shipping canal across southern Mexico.

Mansfield said in a prepared Senate speech that such a sea-level waterway across the Isthmus of Tehuantepec between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans would relieve traffic in what he called the inadequate Panama Canal. It also might help quiet tensions in Panama, he said.

A single atomic explosion, he said, could put the Panama Canal, with its intricate lock system, out of commission indefinitely.

CIA Report On Reds
'Nonsense'

MOSCOW (AP) — The government newspaper Izvestia dismissed as nonsense Tuesday a report by the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency saying the Soviet economy is in deep trouble.

Vladimir Starovsky, head of the Soviet central statistical board, concentrated on that part of the CIA report of Jan. 9 giving the Soviet rate of economic growth at 2.5 per cent and 3.7 in the last two years.

Writing in Izvestia, Starovsky gave these figures: In 1962, the growth rate was six per cent, including an increase of 9.5 per cent in industry, as compared with 1961. He continued:

"In 1963, according to preliminary estimates, industrial output increased by 8.5 per cent as compared with 1962, and the total production, despite definite unfavorable climatic conditions, increased by five per cent."

The mention of unfavorable weather was a reference to severe crop failures in 1963.

Imperial said its prices are set on the basis of costs and competition combined.

In some cases, where dealers sell gas on consignment, Imperial sets the retail price "because it is acting in these cases as the final retailer," the brief said.

"In most cases, however, it is the dealer who sets this price."

Imperial says there are 3,220 gas stations in B.C. It owns 158, part-finances another 171, and 89 are operated by Esso agents.

There are 30 brands of gasoline available.

"No motorist is dependent on either one service station or one brand of gasoline."

'Like a Stone in Pool of Water'

It was, Imperial said, "like a stone thrown into a pool of water."

"At various times different companies tried to move the price up. No one company was able, however, to assume the role of dominant price leader.

At times a company which raised its prices had to rescind the increase when its competitors did not evidently concur with its assessment of the demand and supply factors."

The difference of gas prices across the province, Imperial said, is caused by many factors, including transportation, handling, "and the differences in the individual judgment of

Diplomats in Paris say that Quebec is "reaching out" increasingly to France as part of its current ferment. During his stay here Pearson will visit the official Quebec provincial government office, headed by Charles Lussier.

Diplomats expected France and Canada to decide on periodic policy consultations as a result of the talks here.

Atomic policy inside the North Atlantic alliance, the coming "Kennedy round" of tariff-cutting negotiations, trade relations, the European Common Market and Canada and increased French investment in Canada are likely topics of discussion.

Pearson leaves Paris Friday night to inspect Canadian air bases in eastern France.

The Canadian prime minister was expected to be sympathetic to France's demands for changes in NATO and to the French nuclear force.

Pearson recently indicated his government's wish for revision of its defence policy inside NATO, and, like the French, Canada has shown no enthusiasm for the projected American-backed multilateral nuclear force.

His visit returns one de Gaulle paid to Canada in 1960.

New Ballet
'Bravest Yet' For Canada

OTTAWA (CP) — A ballet billed by its choreographer as the "bravest thing ever attempted in Canadian ballet" had its world premiere by the National Ballet here Monday night.

"House of Aireus," a starkly contemporary setting of the ancient Greek tragedy of Electra, was generally well-received by Ottawa's newspaper critics who praised its daring and power.

The ballet was distinguished by its totally Canadian production staff—choreographer Grant Strate, composer Harry Somers and designer Harold Town—and by the fine dancing of prima ballerina Lois Smith who returned to the stage as Electra in the new ballet after 12 months of rest for a sprained knee.

The 40-minute ballet is based on the legend of Electra who, with her brother Orestes, seeks revenge and subsequently kills the murderers of her father Agamemnon.

It will have its first United States showing in New York Feb. 1.

He has held his cabinet post for 20 years, all in the same portfolio.

The minister now is a member of the Legislature for Regina City constituency.

NEW YORK (AP) — The U.S. federal trade commission is planning curbs that it hopes will change the entire tone of cigarette advertising, the New York Times says.

The restrictions, it was said, will go far beyond a mere requirement that warnings on health hazards of smoking be placed on cigarette packages and in ads.

The commission will attempt to force the elimination of cigarette advertising of statements or indications that people "feel good" when smoking and that smoking is a social grace and a sign of maturity, the paper says in a Washington dispatch.

Soldier Cleared

SUDSBURY, Ont. (CP) — Pte. Reginald Joseph Landriault, 21, who went to the aid of a cripple in a Halloween street fight, had a charge of manslaughter dismissed Tuesday when a grand jury returned a "no bill."

Landriault, of the Queen's Own Rifles of Canada, was originally charged with non-capital murder Nov. 1 when Bruce Robinson, 18, of nearby Salter Township died in hospital five hours after the fight. The charge was reduced to manslaughter by Magistrate Anthony Falzetta at a preliminary hearing in Espanola Nov. 15.

Mr. Justice Leo Landreville commended the grand jury Tuesday on its decision. "If it gives you any consolation, I fully agree with your decision," he said.

Landriault was being transferred from West Germany to Victoria and was staying at the home of his sister in Massey, 55 miles west of here, while on leave.

He was about to enter his sister's house last Halloween when he saw a fight in a service station lot. Witnesses said Landriault went to the aid of Wayne Russell who was on crutches.

He knocked Robinson aside and the youth fell and struck his head on the pavement. Witnesses said that everything Landriault did was aimed at stopping the fight.

GEORGE MEDAL FOR VICTIM

OTTAWA (CP) — Award of the George Medal to Regimental Quartermaster-Sergeant Walter Leja, severely maimed while attempting to defuse a terrorist bomb in the Montreal suburb of Westmount last May 17, was announced today by army headquarters.

The 42-year-old demolition expert was dismantling a bomb package he had taken out of a street mailbox when it went off. The blast shattered his left forearm and caused severe brain damage as well as other serious injuries.

Leja almost died of the injuries. He is maimed for life with little hope of any appreciable recovery.

MONTREAL (CP) — Hal Banks, president of the Seafarers' International Union of Canada (Ind.) was arraigned today on a charge of conspiracy to injure marine engineer Richard George Greaves of Vancouver. Judge Marcel Gaboury remanded the case until Jan. 22 when a date for preliminary hearing will be fixed.

The SIU chief, meanwhile, awaits trial at the February assizes on a charge of conspiracy to commit assault with intent to wound, maim or disfigure. The charge arises from the beating of Capt. Henry Francis Walsh of the Canadian Merchant Service Guild Aug. 18, 1957, in Owen Sound, Ont.

Banks, appearing in answer to a summons, was released on his own cognizance.

FROM GAGLARDI

Parents Seek Crossing Aid

Highways Minister P. A. Gaglardi will be asked personally to order elimination of a school crossing hazard on Patricia Bay Highway near Quadra.

Saanich MLA John Tisdale, approached by representatives of parents living in the Caen-Dieppe-Rithet area, recommended a direct approach to the minister.

About 25 children must cross the busy highway daily to attend Royal Oak Elementary School, located on the west side beyond West Saanich Road.

EXCEED LIMIT

The crosswalk is located at the south end of the intersection of Quadra and Patricia Bay, meeting point of the main north-south traffic routes on Saanich Peninsula.

Speed limit in the area is 40 miles an hour, but most drivers exceed this by about 10 miles an hour, said Mrs. W. R. Taylor, 4291 Quadra, whose two daughters had a narrow escape there Friday.

Children have been instructed by police to wave oncoming motorists past them before attempting to cross the highway.

Motorists, following the normally accepted procedure, tend to stop for the waiting children.

Because of limited vision, other motorists approaching from behind fail to see the first cars slowing and stopping in time to avoid the hazard of rear-end collision, Mrs. Taylor said.

A bus trying to avoid a stopped car Friday rode over an asphalt island and headed directly for the two Taylor children standing on it waiting for the car to proceed.

The bus driver managed to keep control of his bus by taking to the wrong lane, the mother said.

"We have only a layman's idea of what should be done. We're leaving it to the professionals to decide," Mrs. Taylor said.

OVERPASS?

Her husband will write to Mr. Gaglardi explaining the circumstances and suggesting the possibility of traffic control lights or a pedestrian overpass.

A petition has already been sent to the highways department, Saanich council and Saanich police; which resulted in an improved footpath along the highway, and a railing on the traffic island behind which children wait for a gap in the traffic stream.

"Sometimes they wait 10 minutes if the ferry traffic is heavy, then they scoot for their lives," Mrs. Taylor said.

Parents have discussed holding a student strike to emphasize the danger, and the possibility of asking for relocation of the crosswalk, although there seems to be no practical alternative.

Fading Child's Voice Last Word From Ship

JACKSONVILLE, Fla.—A child's voice counted slowly and then faded out.

This was the last radio contact the U.S. Coast Guard had Monday with a sinking schooner, thought to be the 55-foot Enchantress.

Five persons, including two children, were aboard.

They were identified as Mr. and Mrs. John Pelton, his two children of Whittier, Calif., and Capt. Christopher de Grabowski, of Miami, skipper of the schooner Enchantress.

U.S. Navy and Coast Guard ships and planes combed the storm-tossed Atlantic Ocean 180 miles east of Jacksonville all night and into the day searching for possible survivors.

Winds in the area were estimated at 35 to 40 knots, with seas running 15 to 20 feet. Temperatures dropped to near freezing.

The first emergency call was intercepted by the Coast Guard at 4:08 p.m. Monday.

"I am sinking rapidly," the unidentified caller said. "I have five persons on board."

"I've got two dinghies which won't last long in these seas," he said.

The Coast Guard asked the schooner to continue radio transmissions so they could get an accurate fix on the location. Someone started counting.

Later, a child was heard counting slowly to 100. Gradually, the voice faded away. It was 5:17 p.m.

MONTH AFTER RELATIONS RESTORED

U.S., Panama to Review Treaty

By DANIEL GOTTLIEB
PANAMA CITY (Reuters)—The United States and Panama agreed early today to resume diplomatic relations "as quickly as possible" and then review the whole problem of the canal.

A Panamanian source said formal discussions on the 50-year-old canal treaty would begin 30 days after relations were restored.

Panama broke off relations with the U.S. last week, charging the United States with "aggression" after three American soldiers and 21 Panamanians were killed in a night of mob violence. Hundreds of Americans and Panamanians were wounded.

Panamanian students rioted and stormed into the canal zone in protest against violation of an agreement between the two countries to fly their flags side by side. U.S. troops were called out to restore order.

A communiqué issued by the inter-American peace committee, a mission of the Organization of American States, said discussions on the canal treaty would cover "all existing matters of any nature which may affect the relations between Panama and the U.S."

INSISTED ON REVIEW

The wording of the communiqué did not specify that the canal treaty was a subject to be discussed. But Panama has insisted on a review which would appear to come within the meaning of "all existing matters."

Panamanian President Roberto Chiari's press officer, Fausto Velarde, said his government would wait awhile, perhaps a week, "to let things cool off" before resuming relations with the United States.

SEND REPRESENTATIVES

The agreement was reached by the two governments through the offices of the peace mission. Both countries sent special representatives to the committee.

Edwin Martin, former assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs, represented the U.S. and Augusto G. Arango represented Panama.

Earlier, a high Panamanian diplomatic source said if American leaders were willing to revise the treaty agreement the way would be open for a resumption of diplomatic relations.

He said recent statements by American leaders, especially one on Sunday by State Secretary Dean Rusk expressing confidence the differences between the countries could be worked out, seemed to indicate this was the case.

Observers said Panama would surely seek a larger cash annuity from canal revenue in any review of the treaty. The present annuity is $1,930,000.

WOULD BOOST TOLLS

But they said this would make it necessary to raise the present toll for ships.

Though all operating costs have risen greatly since the canal opened to commerce 50 years ago, the toll rates never have increased.

Meanwhile, an airlift of about 1,000 dependents of U.S. service personnel to the United States began. A U.S. Army spokesman said the Americans, who left their homes in Panama during the recent disturbances, had volunteered to return to the U.S.

He said there were insufficient quarters in the Canal Zone—a 10-mile wide strip that cuts Panama in two—to house the influx of people from Panama "on other than an emergency basis."

Lemon Juice Recipe Relieves Arthritic & Rheumatic Pain

If you suffer rheumatic, arthritis or neuritis pain, try this simple inexpensive recipe that thousands are using. Get a can of RU-EX Lemonade Concentrate and mix it with a quart of water. Add the juice of 5 lemons. It's easy! No trouble at all and pleasant. Take only 3 spoonfuls per day—sometimes overnight—relief is obtained. If the pain does not quickly leave and if you do not feel better, return the empty can to RU-EX. It is a money back guarantee. Over 8 million cans used. At all drug counters. Adven. Cigarette Probers On Wrong Track

SARNIA, Ont. (CP)—Prof. G. R. Wright, professor of chemistry at the University of Toronto, said Tuesday night that people seeking to attribute lung cancer to tobacco smoke are "on the wrong track."

Prof. Wright, vice-president of the Chemical Institute of Canada, told the institute's Sarnia section that in 1953 he and some colleagues undertook a study of tobacco smoke at the request of the Canadian Cancer Society.

LET 'EM SMOKE CORN

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Harold Hughes, governor of Iowa, the largest corn-producing state in the U.S., suggested Tuesday that people want to smoke are "on the wrong track."

He said the report of the United States committee, appointed by the U.S. surgeon-general to study the smoking campaign students want to undertake, Mr. Stainsby said nothing new. It was "simply a summary of what people have said before."

Mr. Stainsby thinks the public has been over-exposed to anti-smoking views from non-smokers. A confirmed smoker, he has no intention of quitting.

Commenting on a suggestion at a management committee meeting Tuesday to find what type of anti-smoking campaign students want to undertake, Mr. Stainsby said students who want to smoke will smoke and an educational program will not help.

The Visitor

MR. CHOU EN-LAI'S EXTENSIVE tour of Africa is being viewed in some quarters as a distinct success. In many of the countries he has visited he was greeted with enthusiasm. He attempted to play down the tourist aspects of the journey and stress the opportunity for political talks. In most of the Arab countries he has scored a personal success.

This journey may stand as one of the diplomatic triumphs of 1964, with repercussions extending far into the future.

It is early, of course, for a full assessment. That may take many months. But it is certain that Russia is watching the tour with close attention, since every friend which Mr. Chou makes could be a potential enemy for the Soviet Union.

Already there are signs that Moscow may combat the Red Chinese diplomatic inroads. Peking's offer of a $50 million loan to Algeria was topped by Mr. Khrushchev with the offer of a $100 million loan. And there is talk of the Soviet leader also making a tour of the African states to match the Chinese charm.

By all accounts Mr. Chou has taken special pains to win the favor of his hosts. The verdict will come with the first occasion on which an African state has to choose between rival stands of the two Communist giants.

But some observers believe that if Mr. Khrushchev does not make an African tour, this will indicate that he is writing off the dark continent as of little importance in world affairs. At the moment Mr. Khrushchev is certainly giving his best attention to the West. This, plus his domestic difficulties, could well keep him busy.

The United Nations, where the new African states have found an international voice, often in unison, seems to be taking a secondary position in current major international decisions—perhaps particularly because of that growing voice. The need to win the favor of the Africans may have diminished in Soviet eyes, although for a time it was a major endeavor of all the big powers' delegates to the United Nations.

But this need not bother Mr. Chou, whose country is not a U.N. member. He is sowing his special brand of Communist seeds in the colored soil which appears most receptive, and the hand which sows them is not white.

The Ailing Leader

THE COLLAPSE OF INDIA'S Prime Minister Nehru at the annual conference of his Congress Party last week again raises speculation as to how much longer the 74-year-old leader can hold the reins of power.

It has been evident for some time that Mr. Nehru is in failing health and observers have noted not only his general air of fatigue in recent months, but also the fact that his memory is no longer sharp and his speeches have tended to become increasingly rambling and confused.

Like so many great leaders who have stood head and shoulders above their contemporaries, Mr. Nehru so far has made no provision for a successor to carry on his policies and ideals. For the time being a two-man "regency" consisting of Home Minister Gulzar Lal Nanda and Finance Minister Triumvir T. Krishnamarachi has been named to carry on Mr. Nehru's routine duties.

This, however, is a purely temporary arrangement which presupposes that the prime minister will recover sufficiently to take up his full duties again. It still leaves room for a popular theory that Mr. Nehru would like to have his only child, Mrs. Indira Gandhi, named prime minister so he could retire to a strong leadership of Mr. Nehru.

Despite its predominant position in Indian politics, the Congress Party is by no means a single-minded or monolithic organization. It is, rather, a party of compromise containing shades of opinion from extreme left to moderate right and has been held together only by the strong leadership of Mr. Nehru.

Now, at a time when strong leadership is more essential than ever, with economic difficulties mounting, China threatening India's borders and troubles with Pakistan no closer to solution, it appears that Mr. Nehru is without the physical ability to provide that leadership.

This creates a situation that is perilous, not only for India but for the whole free world. India has been, after all, the living demonstration for all of Asia that the democratic, parliamentary system can produce benefits superior to the authoritarian, communistic system.

If India falls into chaos through the death or incapacity of Prime Minister Nehru, it will be a severe setback for the cause of freedom in Asia and the world.

More Space, Easier Traffic

THE CITY COUNCIL HAS acted promptly to give informal endorsement to Mayor Wilson's plan for widening Blanshard at Arena Way and acquiring property in the region.

This is a valuable move for two reasons. It will facilitate the flow of traffic, increased tremendously by the improvements to Rose Street and the establishment of one-way arteries, and it will make an impressive start on land assembly for future development in the vicinity of the Arena.

Later, should it be found desirable to construct more buildings near the arena, the property will be available.

A Useful Centre

THE ARMED SERVICES CENTRE of Victoria goes into its tenth year as a unique and successful institution, designed to bring servicemen and civilians closer together in a sense of "community."

That it is realizing this initial aim is attested by the fact that the Broad Street headquarters is being used by an average 9,000 sailors, soldiers and airmen each month. The Centre is being placed on a sound financial basis by support of leading businesses, with promise of more aid from the inter-municipal committee.

A group of prominent local citizens serves on the directorate. For the past two years, they have en-

Down to the Sea

A YOUTH FROM SAN JUAN Island has crossed to Vancouver Island in his seven-foot dinghy, plans to go to Port Angeles, probably by ferry, and then row, close to shore, around to Seattle.

So far he has executed a commendable feat of seamanship or one of outright foolhardiness. If he decides to continue on in his skiff, we wish him well. At the same time we hope his exploit will not encourage any local copyists.

Under satisfactory conditions it is possible to make substantial journeys in small rowboats. Unfortunately, at this season, the satisfactory conditions can change in short order to a situation of extreme danger. Anyone caught in a quickly-rising gale in such a craft becomes an open invitation to an air-sea rescue operation or a skin-diving chore.

Boating is one of the fastest-growing recreations on this continent, is excellent fun and generally health-giving. It is not a pastime to be converted into business for morticians. Young people with exaggerated inclinations to emulate Leif, son of Erik the Red, should remember that.

OTTAWA LOOKS AT FINANCE

A Crocodile Just Under the Surface

WHILE it does not appear to worry Mr. Walter Gordon, there is a cloud on the Canadian horizon which is a cause of some concern to various economists inside and outside the public service. It is the inflationary potential building up in the Canadian economy.

There has been in the past 12 months a very substantial expansion of the money supply. The increase of some $1,400,000 to mid-December amounted to about 9 per cent although, if allowance is made for the contraction of 1962 following the exchange crisis, the figure of five per cent may be more appropriate. Even so, Mr. Gordon's six per cent GNP increase is closer to four per cent when account is taken of the rise in prices.

So it seems reasonably clear that the Bank of Canada, with the minister's fervent approval, has been pumping money into the system at a rather higher rate than was necessary to meet the actual demands of reviving business activity.

Money Supply Up

Mr. Gordon made one enthusiastic reference to this in his Toronto speech. "It will not have escaped your notice," he said, "that monetary policy has been in tune with the needs of our expanding economy. The money supply has increased appreciably in the last 12 months and the spread between Canadian and U.S. interest rates has narrowed."

Easy money has certainly not escaped the notice of a sometimes uneasy financial community. The situation is rather different from other years because the expansion does not result primarily from government borrowings. As may be seen from the most recent Bank of Canada statistical summary, loans to business by the chartered banks rose in the first 11 months of 1963 by $733,000,000.

This represents the increase in GNP. A second important factor is the surge in Government of Canada bond holdings by the chartered banks—up $393,000,000 in the same period. This represents the marked shift in borrowing to Canada as the spread in interest rates has narrowed by the policies pursued in Ottawa and Washington.

An increase in the supply of money does not automatically produce an upward thrust in prices. A good deal depends on what people are doing with money; on how fast it circulates. The excess, in certain conditions, may for a considerable period have no obvious inflationary consequences. But this does not mean that there is no potential danger; it is floating beneath the surface like a crocodile in a stream.

Indeed inflation, when it does come, may be the economic price of monetary policies pursued two or three years ago.

Cause of Concern

What does cause concern is the coincidence of an expanded money supply and high liquidity in bank holdings. For what most matters in a situation of this sort is the general view of the business community in regard to the future trend of prices. If businessmen anticipate price increases, they will naturally seek to hedge against inflation by converting liquid assets into goods. It is at this point that the combination of surplus money and high liquidity forces up costs.

Canadian prospects are dependent as always upon factors largely beyond our control. The most important is the export market. At the moment conditions in Western Europe are showing an encouraging improvement and, in addition, we are reaping benefits of uncertain duration in the form of sales to Communist countries.

This is in sharp contrast to the years when Mr. Fleming's deficits were reflected in huge borrowings abroad which in turn brought a flood of imports at the very time when our exports, handicapped by the exchange premium, were meeting only a sluggish demand in overseas markets. From this standpoint, the immediate future looks very promising.

We are, of course, also affected by the economic climate in North America and this is more uncertain. Mr. Gordon, in one of his very few lapses from total optimism, conceded that the current upswing in the business cycle began about three years ago and that "one of these days it must flatten out or take a dip."

The upswing has not overcome American unemployment, now running at about 5.9 per cent. The United States government is determined to deal with this situation in a way which will not risk another run on the dollar. If, as expected, the solution is a tax cut, it seems to be the dominant view that its complement will be a policy of tighter money, pushing up interest rates. It would not be surprising if ours followed as business here competed with government for scarce resources.

It may be that these American policies will prolong the upswing but long range economic forecasts are notoriously dangerous.

Mr. Gordon's serenity is based upon the view that there is still a good deal of unused capacity in our economy. Difficulties would arise if the economy, fuelled by deficits and easy money, generated enough steam to create a strain on our resources. (Mr. Gordon has already prepared the country for another big deficit and the pattern of central bank operations suggests to some financial writers that a further money expansion of some $900,000,000 is a reasonable expectation for 1964.)

If pressure develops in a situation characterized by fixed exchange rates, we could expect an upward movement of interest rates, costs and prices accompanied by another flood of imports. This would force the Bank of Canada into sharp intervention for while an easy money policy can be brought in gradually and painlessly, the opposite policy has to be rough and drastic if it is to be taken seriously.

Short of Danger Point

Mr. Gordon did not succeed, apparently, in banishing all doubts from the minds of his business audience in Toronto. But there is no evidence as yet that the uneasiness in the financial community has reached a dangerous point.

While there has been an upward price movement, it may readily be attributed to devaluation; indeed some economists find it remarkable that the movement has been so small (and so slow) given so large an adjustment in exchange rates; a shift of at least 12 per cent from premium to discount levels in a relatively short space of time.

Nevertheless any indications that the advance is picking up momentum are bound to occasion concern because the effect is to cancel out, to the extent of the movement, the advantage of devaluation. While exports continue to outpace imports, optimism rides high but an upward movement of Canadian costs might change the outlook in such a fashion as to cause nightmares in the department of finance.

PROBLEM OF U.S.S.R.

Everybody Planning, Nobody Left to Work

WASHINGTON is currently in a mild swivel about President Johnson's order to the CIA to start telling the world about the Soviet Union's economic difficulties. The method chosen was certainly a bit odd. Yet the President was trying to get across a point of vast importance, needing to be weighed in every American and indeed in every western calculation about the world situation. Furthermore, the CIA "background briefers" did not even begin to tell the whole remarkable story.

The fact is that Soviet studies have once again entered a new era, for the third time since the end of the Second World War. In the first era, extending roughly from 1948 to 1957, the Communist economic system was grossly underrated, mainly because of the Russians' presumed "lack of know-how." In the second era, just now ending, grave overestimates were the general rule.

This was because it suddenly dawned on the demonologists that the Kremlin could hold down the living standards of the Russian people and thereby invest a very high percentage of Russia's gross national product in new industry and in national defence. This feature of the Soviet system was expected to maintain enormously high rates of national growth for an indefinite future.

Today, however, these predictions have been falsified by the recent extremely low rates of Soviet national growth, and a third, much more sophisticated era of Soviet studies has opened. Its character is suggested by a recent paper on Soviet economic problems by Leon Solinski and Perer Wiles:

This paper, on "Problems of Communism," is wholly based on the work of the official economists of the Soviet Union, like academician Glushkov, who has predicted that without drastic reforms planning work will increase 38-fold by 1980, requiring the services of the entire adult population of the U.S.S.R.

Nonetheless, the new way of looking at Soviet problems is highly important and not just because it is always useful to be realistic about one's competitors. The fact is that the evidence now being published pretty obviously proves that the Soviet system urgently needs quite radical modernization.

The changes required for this purpose will surely be evolutionary rather than revolutionary. Yet, in view of the Soviet system's ideological rigidity, the process of change will surely be very difficult, and it will tend to be accompanied by internal political convulsions, short of revolution, but still surprising and profound. And this is a highly novel outlook for a system formerly considered as a changeless monolith.

DENNIS THE MENACE

Monya Mickle Mak's a Laird

By NORMAN CRIBBENS
THOSE of us who worked for Canadian newspaper magnate Roy Thomson in the old days — and called him "Uncle" among ourselves — were not unduly surprised when he recently became Lord Thomson.

We, his salaried employees, always felt he would get a title because we knew he wanted one. And what Uncle wants he usually gets.

In the London office of Thomson Newspapers, we always marvelled at Uncle's ceaseless energy and unfailing optimism. We might think we were early for work, but Uncle would be earlier.

As we arrived at our desks, we would see him through the glass windows of his office, thick-lensed glasses trained on a balance sheet — or finger and thumb extended as he counted the inches of advertising in our pioneer publication, Canada Weekly Review.

"Balance sheets," he once told me, "are as thrilling as racehorses. You watch the profits and losses bobbing up and down, the one gaining the lead from the other. You can sum up a business at a glance from its balance sheet."

Economy, of course, was his watchword. When he took over The Scotsman newspaper in Edinburgh in 1954, high-powered executives driving to work in their cars were embarrassed to see Uncle stepping off a street car near his office.

"Cars are not nearly as essential as we think they are," he said. "Most of the time they are an excuse for sheer laziness. Who wants a car to travel four or five blocks?"

The year he took over The Scotsman, Uncle caused a near-sensation when he advertised in its classified advertisement columns for "good second-hand cutlery and a well-kept 1949 Packard."

He had heard Packards were "good" that year and he didn't give a hang for all the auto salesmen who were trying to sell him 1954 models.

Once I had to accompany Mr. Thomson to a reception at British Columbia House, London.

"What bus goes there?" he asked.

"The No. 11," I said, "but it's raining like hell, and this is the rush hour. Shouldn't we take a taxi?"

Uncle still preferred the bus and we queued for it, with rain running down our necks. But I honestly believe he was more anxious to set me the taxi fare.

He sincerely believed the average man was too extravagant with his money. He could not understand why he would buy amusement when he could be buying a house or a small business of his own.

"It's not easy to earn a good salary nowadays," he would say. "Why are people so careless in the way they spend it?"

I had the feeling Uncle was geared differently to most of us. He was geared to success, while we, his employees, were largely geared to enjoying life.

Yet Uncle enjoys it, too. No one who has seen the gleam in his thick-lensed glasses when he swallows another newspaper can doubt that.

Benny's Castle

If the old Times building on the corner of Fort and Broad could talk—and thank goodness it can't—it would probably be saying: "Here we go again, back with the department store."

Eaton's has bought the structure for expansion. The ownership relation is different from that of Spencer's to the old Times. In the first place the building isn't the home of a newspaper any more—hasn't been for about 13 years. In the second it wasn't wished on the department store as the Times was wished on Spencer's.

Mr. Will, Mr. Dave and "Uncle" Chris probably never wanted a newspaper. But the courts decided a gentleman who owned them money should be put where he couldn't make any. Since he owned the Times, it fell into the Spencer's hands.

Stott

bubbling at 600 degrees Fahrenheit. The oil from the furnace dripped down on me. Heavy-heavy hung over, etc.

In the newsroom, walls had been pushed around so you wondered how the floor above held up. Percy Fox put in the supporting steel that kept ceiling from sandwiching us. Every year the carpenters would be up to renew the flooring, worn through by rushing feet. You could loaf through a morning, float through an afternoon, but when you hit the newsroom door—it was double-hinged so that a person coming in could knock one departing down and out, as sometimes happened—you had to be dashing. It gave the right impression.

If the mechanical equipment wasn't enough to bear the building down from the top, on the fourth floor we stacked the metal cuts in cabinets that gradually accumulated tremendous tonnage. In the process the cabinets shut out all the light from a hallway on the other side of a glass partition. You moled your way down it to the gentlemen's restroom, euphemistically speaking.

And over the top of the cabinets, if you'd been working late and happened to kill a mickey or more, you tossed your empty, loosing it carefully over to drop in the space next to the wall. Over the years we built up a bigger pile of broken glass in that space than six milk trucks colliding at once. And we never discovered the debris until Ted Fox, wrestling with someone in the hallway, put his arm through the frosted-glass partition. Then the cracked crocks cascaded out.

The desks were old and rickety. Nancy Hodges, hurrying to her corner by the window, seldom passed a day without a tight-lipped "damn" as splinters on the furniture tore her stockings.

Nobody saw Ken Drury's desk top for years at a time. It was snowed under two feet of accumulated papers. We weren't interested in his desk top. We were interested in his right hand vest pocket. Ken kept a supply of silver there to bail out juniors who went broke between paydays.

It was pretty unkempt accommodation, despite the labors of Reg Stofer and Mark Griffith who worked tirelessly at janitorial chores to keep it tidy. The elevator, operated by Dave Porter, ran when it felt like it. And down in the marbled foyer—the one attempt at elegance in the building—the lowest step, giving onto the sidewalk, was two inches too low.

You could walk along Fort and see someone hurtle from the building as if he or she had been thrown out. Not at all. The departing visitor had just misjudged the stair tread.

Inside the facade, which looked passable, it was pretty humble, but it was home—home for a competent bunch of newspaper people who counted some of the best in Canada among their numbers, who bowed the knee to no one but Ben Nicholas, covered the smaller town like a blanket and shared a fierce pride in The Times.

Down With White Elephants!

Most gardeners desire to possess a greenhouse but it is not everyone who can afford the luxury of a heating system to suit the requirements of plants that cannot withstand frost.

There are many such structures in this area which have become more or less white elephants after a few unsuccessful attempts with potted house plants.

With suitable plants these greenhouses could be utilized to advantage most of the year, while the addition of a small kerosene heater to keep the temperature from dipping below 32 degrees F. on cold nights would increase their usefulness manifold.

But it is futile to attempt operating such a greenhouse unless one's interest is sufficient to make a pleasure of checking before bedtime and again before breakfast, together with prompt covering with newspapers when frost is likely, and attention to their removal shortly after day-break.

Shallow, small boxes containing a dampened mixture of peat, good soil, and sand will suit the seeds, and a piece of glass on top until they sprout will conserve the moisture.

Good light, moisture, no chills but a fresh, buoyant atmosphere are the orders until the seedlings are big enough to handle. They are then set out, or pricked out, two inches apart into larger boxes, or flats.

By the end of February or the first week of March, the flats will be ready to move to an unheated coldframe, protected from rain, but well ventilated.

SYNOPSIS—The active Pacific storm that caused rain and gales as it crossed the north coast of B.C. Tuesday evening is moving more slowly than previously expected over the south coast. For this reason rain will persist in southern coastal regions until this evening when it will change to a few showers. Snowflurries and mild temperatures will persist in the interior of the province Thursday. The next Pacific system, now moving across the Aleutian chain, will bring rain to the north coast Thursday afternoon.

Fewer Men Unemployed In December

OTTAWA (CP) — An estimated 346,000 persons in Canada were unemployed in mid-December, 68,000 fewer than a year earlier, the labor department and Dominion Bureau of Statistics said today in a joint report.

The report said four-fifths of the decrease was among men aged 25 to 64.

The December figure was 43,000 higher than in mid-November, but the report described this as "an unusually small increase for the time of year." The rise was entirely among men.

As a percentage of the estimated labor force, the December jobless rate was 5.1 per cent compared with 6.3 per cent a year earlier and 6.4 per cent two years earlier. The mid-November rate was 4.5 per cent.

The rate in B.C. was 6.5 per cent, compared with 7.7 per cent a year ago.

Caroller Carried Own Wassail

An embarrassed University of Victoria student told Magistrate William Ostler Monday that he was out carol singing when he was caught by police in illegal possession of liquor.

Ken Blunt, 20, of 1925 Townley, was found with a bottle of sherry and a bottle of whisky in the grounds of Government House Dec. 22.

The magistrate said he was surprised that "a college boy would do it." He said Blunt's conduct was "most discourteous to the lieutenant-governor" and it spoiled his goodwill gesture in going to Government House to sing carols.

The magistrate imposed a $20 fine on Blunt.

Four other minors also received a similar fine for a similar offence.

They were Edward Stevens, 18, of 1922 Leighton, Garry Brown, 20, of 4051 Wilkinson, Richard Hammond, 19, of 934 Foul Bay Road, and Trevor Hughes, 19, of 4050 Saanich Road. The four were caught separately with bottles of beer in their cars.

TB Testing In High Gear In Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP) — The largest tuberculosis test of its kind ever held anywhere started Monday in Vancouver schools.

From the schools it will move into the community, and by the end of May it will have reached as many as 300,000 persons.

Both TB skin tests and chest x-rays are involved in the program, conducted jointly by the provincial government's division of TB control and the British Columbia Tuberculosis Society.

Officials have gone to Winnipeg, Regina, Saskatoon and Edmonton for extra mobile clinics, and even into Washington State.

With all 16 units operating at full capacity, survey teams can handle 4,000 persons a day.

The tuberculosis society is on record as saying that "to our knowledge a program of this scope, using both tuberculin test and chest x-ray, has never been attempted anywhere."

Regular staff is backed up by 7,000 volunteers, including 700 nurses who will help sterilize equipment, clerical help and volunteers making door-to-door calls urging families to turn out at their nearest clinic.

This part of the plan, known as Operation Doorstep, has been used extensively in other parts of the province, turning out up to 80 per cent of the population.

The society expects to reach 70,000 children in 120 schools between now and Feb. 21.

Ex-Aldermen Win Calgary Libel Suit

CALGARY (CP) — Mr. Justice J. W. C. Kirby has awarded damages to two former aldermen in a defamation suit brought against the North Hill News.

Damages to plaintiff Clarence Mack were assessed at $1,000 and damages for plaintiff Donald McIntosh at $1,500. North Hill News will pay costs of the trial.

Mr. Justice Kirby said material published in the 17,500-circulation weekly newspaper was defamatory because it led the reader to believe the plaintiffs had been found guilty of offences in a city land deal.

Mr. Justice Kirby said the North Hill News circulation is "small and is local in nature. Although it is alleged that the defamatory words were republished in other news media . . . no evidence was adduced proving this to be so."

"HEARING AID" award, more formally known as the sonar proficiency trophy of Fourth Canadian Escort Squadron based at Esquimalt, is in the proud possession of HMCS Jonquiere branch.

entation was made recently by Rear-Admiral W. M. Landymore, flag officer, Pacific, to PO David A. Buick, 2590 Wesley, of Jonquiere sonar branch.

Pilot Crashes Plane Into College Building

SHAWNEE, Okla. (AP) — A man wife, Vash, is a juniorson radioed the Shawnee Air former mental patient ignored the police rifle fire and the pleas of the man who taught him to fly and crashed his private plane Tuesday into a classroom building at Oklahoma Baptist University.

The pilot, Robert Lawson, 43, of Inola, Okla., was killed when the rented single-engine plane ripped a hole in the side of Shawnee Hall and burst into flames.

Lawson had warned authorities he would crash into the administration building. But since he left the campus several years ago, administrative offices had been removed to Thurmond Hall.

Officers evacuated Thurmond Hall, but scores of students were taking final examinations in Shawnee Hall. No one was injured.

Lawson's son, Mike, 21, is a student at the college. His former asking for Reese, who was not there. Duke Howard, who was manning the radio, said Lawson told him to have the university's administration building evacuated.

Howard immediately called Reese, who arrived to talk with Lawson over the radio. Lawson again said he planned to crash into the building.

Police said they had received complaints earlier of the plane buzzing sections of Shawnee.

Mrs. Addie B. Choate was giving her French class a final examination in the building when the plane crashed into it.

"The crash was terrific and sounded like a bomb," she said. "The room shook and class started falling."

Larry Bawner, 19, a student in the building, said: "It was just one big thud. Then glass flew everywhere. Then the students got up and left the building. It was amazing."

Pair Withdraw Guilty Pleas

Two young men in court Tuesday withdrew guilty pleas they entered earlier and asked for trial on a charge of prowling by night.

Laszlo Zimmer, 23, of 832 Orona, and Edgar C. Hubbard, 20, of 944 Dunsinair, told Magistrate William Ostler that they did not fully understand all that was involved when they entered guilty pleas to the offence.

The magistrate reminded them he had asked them if they fully understand the charge before pleading to it.

He agreed to let them withdraw their plea and set bail for each of them at $500 cash.

Voter Apathy Threatens Local Gov't

VANCOUVER (CP)—Elimination of local government in B.C. could result from apathy in municipal voting, says Victoria city planner Anthony Roberts.

Mr. Roberts, director of the Greater Victoria Regional Planning Board, said the small percentage of people voting in municipal elections could force provincial takeover of municipal government as an alternative to local oligarchy or rule by law.

He was the first speaker at a four-day seminar sponsored by the UBC extension department on the problems of local government.

He said that in the 1962 municipal elections in B.C., only 24 per cent of the persons eligible actually used their vote, compared with 64 per cent in the 1960 provincial election and 73 per cent in the 1963 federal election.

"At municipal election an alderman has been elected by seven per cent of the population over 21 and a reeve on nine per cent," he said.

"If the vote were to get lower, democracy, diluted by apathy, would become oligarchy."

One of the alternatives would be elimination of municipal government and takeover by the province. But in this ombudsman would be needed to protect local interests.

Another alternative was a concerted effort to increase municipal voting interest through adjustments in municipal boundaries to produce metropolitan or amalgamated municipal units and even forced municipal voting as is done in Australia.

PRAVDA SAYS

Stalinist Sentence 'Infamous'

MOSCOW (Reuters)—A Russian naval captain was wrongfully sentenced to 25 years imprisonment during the Stalin regime after being a liaison officer on U.S. ships during the 1945 Yalta conference, the Soviet government newspaper Izvestia said Saturday.

An article in Izvestia said the officer, Boris V. Burkovsky, was released in 1956. He later became the model for one of the main characters in Russian author Alexander Solzhenitsin's famous novel of camp hardships, One Day in the Life of Ivan Denisovich.

Burkovsky, now in charge of a naval museum on the revolutionary cruiser Aurora moored in Leningrad, was quoted as saying that Solzhenitsin had changed his story a little.

The article said that in reality Burkovsky, who spoke English well, was made a liaison officer to U.S. warships which went to Sevastopol, the Crimean port, during the Big Three Yalta conference in February, 1945.

"In the course of his duty he had to spend almost all his time on these ships, constantly to be in contact with American officers, and with the admiral."

Budget Hits New High In Saanich

Saanich finance committee Monday night approved a record $5,334,000 provisional budget—about $78,000 more than the 1963 budget.

Final budget will not be prepared for some weeks, but no major cuts are anticipated in the provisional budget studied Monday night.

Biggest increase likely will be in public works spending, provisionally upped $60,000, with $16,000 of that in administration salaries.

Fire protection spending is up by $18,000, police protection is up by $33,000, and other forms of protection are expected to take another $9,000.

Overall capital expenditure is down by $22,000.

Most noticeable cut: social welfare, down by $6,000.

"The history for last year indicates this is a reasonable estimate," notes comptroller-treasurer John Tribe in his report to council.

The budget will be submitted to the provincial government for approval by Jan. 20.

Bitter-Sweet Memories Of Y Will Linger Long

By RAY SINCLAIR

When the YMCA passes from the scene at Blanshard and View soon, many hundreds of people will recall the bitter-sweet memories of warm, shabby rooms and many memorable characters.

The old building will tumble, and when the new joint YM-YW rises at Quadra and Courtney, there will be no men's residential section.

For some, the end of a link with Victoria.

For others—resident old-timers—a near tragedy.

CHESS PREFERRED

Ernie Crosingham, a retired Saanich Island farmer, has been at the Y for four years. Needing a cane to walk, he wants only to sit where the sun streams through a sitting-room window on to his favorite armchair.

He will accept any offer of a cribbage game, but if a chess enthusiast happens to be around, so much the better.

Ernie has "nowhere else to go" as his only living relative, a daughter, lives in Los Angeles "where it's too hot."

When the old Y comes down, Ernie is out on his own.

CUT RATES

We remember Ernie slipping some silver to a young resident now and then, or a little of his own fruit and cakes.

Many young men who finally got a job or moved on will remember his help on a hungry day.

Others near despair told their stories to former Secretary-General Viv Shoemaker, and were quietly allowed to stay on at reduced rates or even without paying until they were able.

Starvation at the Y was impossible, with the understanding Mr. Shoemaker slipping an occasional meal ticket to young men hungry and out of work.

But we remember one whose pride kept him with-laughed to hear he was awakened at 4 a.m. by an insistent buzzer.

During summer, we sweltered in our room rather than raise the window and be joined by the odor from the adjoining toilet; sometimes we risked it anyway, and hung over ledges gossiping to friends on other levels, like Danny-Upstairs breaking the stillness.

SOFT GUITAR

Or we drifted to sleep in the midnight warmth with only the soft guitar and singing of Danny-Upstairs breaking the stillness.

There was Bob, from Chateauguay, Que., staggering in at 9 a.m. after getting lost on a moonlight hike around Oak Bay; two Australians who last saw each other as one left the ship at Colombo, meeting again in the Y sitting room; John from North Vancouver with a straightforward way of asking for a hamburger and coffee, and a troublesome yen for trying to suicide on the Johnson Street Bridge.

We felt a strong kinship for Bob, asking plaintively for "a glass of water" only at the Y coffee shop.

And David, living comfortably and (towards less fortunate friends) charitably off his unemployment benefits until he tired of the leisured life. We sympathized with Pete, unemployed for two months, then offered a job at $100 per week in Prince George. He "lost" the job five minutes later when it was found another person had been hired on the Johnson Street Bridge.

WATCHED GIRLS

When there was nobody to talk to, there were tattered magazines circulating endlessly.

But no one was ever quite alone.

We became interested in Ernie Crosingham's chess; we joined him for cribbage; we compulsorily forsook television to fiddle with a cranky radio in an ancient wooden frame.

When there was sharing of 20 cents for a cup of coffee, there was friendship built that will last longer than the 53-year-old YMCA.

We put a friend's number on the reveille board, and remember Ernie slipping some silver to a young resident now and then, or a little of his own fruit and cakes.

Restart in February Seen for Flooded Mine

By GORDON BELL

Times Business Editor
The Cowichan Copper Co. Ltd. Sunro mine at Jordan River should be back in production at least by the end of February, according to president O. G. MacDonald.

With favorable weather, it is even possible the operation will be able to resume much sooner.

Mr. MacDonald said the underground mill, despite being immersed in water, as a result of the Dec. 6 cave-in, will not be damaged and will require only cleaning and drying. The 7,500 feet of main haulage tunnel needed less than 500 feet of timbering and only part of this will need replacing. Some of the equipment dislodged from the trestle at the portal will be recoverable and some of the damaged equipment is covered by insurance.

The Cowichan president also said preparation had advanced to the stage where it was expected that tonnage and grade control would give a monthly operating profit of $150,000 at a rate of 1,500 tons daily. On this basis the company can retire its liabilities and earn a substantial profit.

After the cave-in large suppliers gave Cowichan what amounted to a moratorium on payment of their accounts until production could be resumed. Mr. MacDonald said, and the Mercantile Bank of Canada has provided credits to take care of payroll and other expenses of getting back into operation.

Consolidated Paper Net Earnings Down

MONTREAL (CP) — Consolidated Paper Corp. Ltd. and subsidiary companies have reported net earnings of $15,962,783 for the year ended Dec. 31 compared with $16,547,670 in 1962.

Sales for the year were $16,779,844 against $116,269,639 during 1962.

Earnings amounted to $2.70 a share against $2.80 in 1962.

More Passengers Carried by Cunard

MONTREAL (CP) — Cunard Steamship Co. Ltd. has reported 178,296 passengers crossed the Atlantic in Cunard liners in 1963 compared with 174,318 in 1962.

Carryings by the Queen Elizabeth and Queen Mary for the year totalled 107,430 against 101,552 in 1962.

The flooding of the mine is no way affects remaining ore reserves or other parts of the workings to be mined and further developed.

Price increases announced this week on finished items by Aluminum Company of America will be watched with considerable interest by the metals industries to see if they can be made to stick.

If they do, they could pave the way for price boosts all along the line both in primary and finished copper, steel and aluminum.

The Alcoa increases ranged from half a cent to two cents a pound on hundreds of sheet and plate-aluminum items and involved a decision to replace commodity price schedules with specification prices. The company said the changes were in line with its policy to seek a more adequate return on its products.

It is the "Canadian Business Handbook," published by McGraw-Hill Canada and compiled by Jean and Dorothy Newman who are business and technical librarian and professional secretary respectively.

Aside from the fact that the handbook is Canadian and up-to-date, it even contains the new postal regulation and rates which go into effect next April.

Its chief value is the fine indexing job which was done and which puts all the information in the book's 600 pages right at the user's fingertips with over 6,000 entries.

McGraw-Hill has hopes that this will become the standard reference work on Canadian business practices and they intend to issue revised editions as they become necessary.

NESBITT, THOMSON APPOINTMENT

Crush International Ltd. had a consolidated net profit of $349,993 or $1.49 a share on 637,788 shares outstanding in the fiscal year ended Oct. 30, 1963. This compares with $645,223 or $1.12 a share on 516,108 shares in the previous year.

The company reported that continued increases in the price of sugar had forced product price rises at the retail level twice during the year.

Attempts to force repatriation of Canadian equities held abroad, plus the Quebec pension plan, will work to lower prices of Canadian stocks, according to A. Hamilton Bolton, president of Bolton, Tremblay and Co. of Montreal.

Under normal circumstances, and given the bright Canadian outlook, stock prices could be expected to rise, Mr. Bolton said. But Ottawa's tax moves, which will work to raise the domestic supply of stocks without increasing the demand, will work against this.

The Quebec pension plan, which will drain off savings in this province into a gigantic investment pool, will also work where he held the position of a sales representative.

Nesbitt, Thomson and Company, Limited, announce the appointment of Mr. James M. Brickley as manager of their Victoria Office, effective January 15th.

Mr. Brickley has had over ten years experience in the investment business and is being transferred from Vancouver where he held the position of a sales representative.

City's Doug Fletcher Had a Glittering Day

It was a glittering day of diamonds and gold Sunday for veteran Victoria sports official Doug Fletcher.

Doug and his wife, Ethel, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary and Doug also received the B.C. Amateur Hockey Association's diamond stick award during a special meeting of the Victoria Minor Hockey Association executive.

Presentation of the award, a miniature gold hockey stick with diamond inset, was made by Ivan Temple, secretary-registrar of the BCAHA.

The award is given for outstanding service to minor hockey over a period of more than 10 years.

Fletcher, 71, organized the city's minor hockey and minor lacrosse associations.

FIVE-GAME SUSPENSION . . .

It Could Be Howie's Last Chance

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Howie Young has been granted a virtual reprieve but his next deviation from the straight and narrow could mean the termination of his controversial hockey career.

President Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League suspended him Tuesday for swearing and spitting upon spectators Jan. 4 in Toronto.

It could be the last chance for puck's bad boy who incurred a three-game suspension last year and also was twice banished voluntarily by his former employers, the Detroit Red Wings.

The penalty this time was relatively lenient, considering Campbell had indicated last week that the 26-year-old defenceman faced life suspension. It's possible that Campbell is giving Young a final opportunity to behave or the NHL president believes the trigger-tempered bad boy was unfairly chided into his latest outburst.

The flare-up occurred during a Toronto game between the

. . . FOR CHIHAWKS' BAD BOY

Maple Leafs and Hawks while Young was in the penalty box. As usual, he was jeered, but this time his hecklers included Stafford Smythe, an owner of the Leafs.

Young admitted cursing and, according to Campbell's report, spitting toward the Smythe box "striking a lady occupant fully in the face."

Campbell said "professional athletes must accept heckling as part of their vocation and maintain decent responses to it" so that Young's conduct could not be excused.

But he pointed out, however, that "Young's conduct in this case appears to have been aggravated more by the source of the heckling than by its content and this aspect of the incident will certainly require the league's consideration to avoid a similar situation in future."

THOSE OUTSIZED MITTS ARE STILL IN FASHION

NEW YORK (AP)—The baseball rules makers have reconsidered and decided to wait a year before enforcing their restriction on the size of catchers' mitts.

So the boys behind the plate may use those outsized jobs until 1965.

Charles Segar, chairman of the baseball rules committee, made the announcement Tuesday, with the following explanation:

"At San Diego, in December, the rules committee put a restriction on the size of catchers' mitts, effective this year. But later it was felt that this probably worked a hardship on manufacturers, who may have had a large stock of mitts of various sizes in stock."

Maxwell Paces Tars' Victory

Pontiacs took the penalties and Navy took the points in an Esquimalt Hockey League replayed game at the Sports Centre Tuesday

Navy took the game 5-2 and a share of first place, previously the uncontested property of Pontiacs. That situation may change Friday when Pontiacs meet Vikings at the Sports Centre.

The replay was ordered after the league executive upheld a Navy protest of a Jan. 3 game won 7-4 by Pontiacs. The Tars contended that a penalized player had been kept in the box too long.

Concentrating on the puck and not the man, Navy wheel ed to a 5-0 lead in the first two periods. Pontiacs, well rested from frequent rests in the penalty box, displayed considerable energy in the third period which brought them two goals.

Ken Maxwell, leading the lead in scoring, accounted for three goals. Peter Dawe led

Is Finley Dead Before Parley?

NEW YORK (AP)—Charles O. Finley, who has huffed and puffed and threatened to blow the American League down, will take his case before a jury that apparently already has reached its verdict.

The case—basically a simple question of whether Finley will move, An Associated Press survey showed, earlier in the battle, that at least five clubs, New York, Boston, Baltimore, Chicago and Detroit were opposed.

Baltimore president Lee MacPhail and Detroit owner John Fetzer made public statements Tuesday.

Asked what would happen when Finley requests to move the club, MacPhail said:

"I don't think he'll get one vote."

WON'T GET IT

Fetzer declared:

"There are precepts in the bylaws of the American League constitution which state that the league may take over any franchise which is not being operated according to that constitution. I think those precepts may apply in this case."

THE SCOREBOARD

BY Harry Grayson

NEW YORK (NEA)—Sandy Koufax is making a complete whirl of the Rubber Chicken Circuit.

The first National League pitcher to strike out more than 300 batters in a season and a 25-game winner who was the star of the World Series is in great demand. So Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers is going to a lot of places. His itinerary includes an appearance before Las Vegas footlights and in Edmonton, Alta., and at the Sportsman's Show in Boston.

A leading question is whether Koufax, winner of a poll to name the U.S. Athlete of 1963, will fade like a lot of other baseball banquet beauties. With the number of dinners increasing since the Second World War, this has become a problem of baseball's pinup boys.

Cold roast beef and wrinkled peas night in and night out; being up late and travel hasn't done any of them any good. Most of them will tell you that the $20,000 or so didn't nearly compensate for the damage done.

Stanley Musial had the poorest (for him) of his early campaigns with St. Louis after making the rounds on the heels of the Cardinals' last world championship in 1946. Stan the Man got going later than usual the next spring and had an appendectomy at season's end.

While always a preferred guest, the greatest of the Red Birds took mighty good care not to get involved in anything as nerve-wracking as that again.

Bob Turley of the New York Yankees became the prize picker-upper of plaques when he won the Cy Young Award in 1958. All the bicarbonate of soda in the country couldn't have helped Bullet Bob after a whirlwind tour. He hasn't been the same since. At 33 he will be pitching coach of the Boston Red Sox and no one wants coaches at banquets. They are anonymous.

Dick Groat was the National League's Most Valuable Player, batting .325 in 1960 and bounced around the country by popular demand. Groat rarely had a night at home with his family and during the merry-go-round pointed out that it might affect his play.

Roger Was Brief With His Speeches

It did, and while Groat came back to a great extent in 1962, the Pittsburgh club slipped and the front office suspected that the shortstop had lost a step or two. He was traded to St. Louis.

Roger Maris' speeches were confined to one line: "I thank you very much for this beautiful plaque," but after the Yankees' Rajah hit 61 home runs in 1961, the output dropped to 33 in '62 and he was of little help last trip.

Ralph Terry also was a victim of the banquet circuit. In 1962 Terry won 23 for the Yankees and then went on to hurl two winning games in the 1962 World Series. Last season he slumped to a 17-won, 15-lost record and his contribution in the disastrous Series with Los Angeles was limited to three innings in relief.

Macry Wills told filet mignon-munchers all around the wheel that he didn't see any reason why he shouldn't steal 300 bases again. The best Wills could do was 40 and while the little Dodger shortstop batted better than .300 the year wasn't nearly as spectacular as the preceding one.

A leg injury which forced him to take time out early last season was a masked blessing for the weary Wills. It gave him the rest required to put him back on his feet.

There are exceptions proving the rule that ball players making extensive safari on the banquet circuit suffer. Lou Burdette of the Milwaukee Braves and the Dodgers' Larry Sherry did well after being the most sought-after dinner guests during the off-seasons of 1957-58 and '59-60, respectively.

But the Dodgers can only hope that being away from home-cooking so long won't take too much out of Sandy Koufax.

They are truly concerned about having an overstuffed strikeout king.

Gate Decline At Nanaimo

NANAIMO (CP)—The Nanaimo senior lacrosse club showed an average attendance of 893, which was 211 less per game than in 1962.

A 14-member executive was elected and will meet Monday, Jan. 20, to name officers for the 1964 season.

The president's report

FIVE MILLION INFIELD . . .

Recession Catches Up to Rich Yankees

NEW YORK (AP)—Ralph Houk's $5,000,000 infield is worth $105,000.

The recession began the day Houk stepped up from manager to general manager of New York Yankees.

And the market hit bottom this week when Houk and the Yankees mailed contracts to the American League baseball champions. The entire payroll comes to an estimated $800,000.

As for the four men Houk valued at $5,000,000 in a word battle with Baltimore manager Billy Hitchcock last year, here's the way the salaries go, from first to third:

1B—Joe Pepitone, $15,000.

2B—Bobby Richardson, $30,000.

SS—Tony Kubek, $25,000.

3B—Clete Boyer, $25,000.

Kubek and Boyer get about the same as last year. Pepitone gets a hefty raise from $8,000 after hitting .271 with 27 home runs and 89 runs batted in—high for the club. Richardson, a .265 hitter and a team leader, gets about a $5,000 hike.

The big hunk of the $800,000 payroll, one-eighth of it to be exact, goes to Mickey Mantle, who played in only 65 games last season because of a broken left foot and a damaged left knee cartilage that had to be operated on this winter.

Mantle had said he would have accepted a cut but Houk said:

"You don't penalize a man because of injuries sustained in the line of duty. He means a great deal to this club and I expect him to bounce back and have a great year."

Houk already has signed two players—outfielder Roger Maris and pitcher Whitey Ford. Maris took a cut of about $5,000 to $65,000 while Ford signed for a $12,000 raise to the $60,000 neighborhood for his 24 victories and added stature as a pitching coach.

Also in for a hefty raise is catcher Elston Howard, the American League's Most Valuable Player, expected to get a contract calling for close to $60,000. Most of the other increases go to the young players.

Jim Bouton, a 20-game winner in his second season, and young pitching partner Al Downing should move up to $15,000 and $11,000 respectively, but one of the pitchers, Bill Stafford, is in line for what could be the biggest cut after a 4-8 record.

Carspiel Finalists Settled Up Earlier

Bowler of Week

CALGARY (CP)—Hector Gervais of Edmonton and Ernie Richardson of Regina, finalists in last week's masters' curling bonspiel here, said Tuesday they agreed to split the top prize prior to the sudden-death final game.

Gervais defeated Richardson, four-time Canadian and world champion, 8-7, for first prize of four compact cars. Second prize was four television sets.

Both said they do not regret their decision to split first prize.

"Why should we?" Richardson said in an interview. "After all, whoever expected us to play one game for all or nothing. There was more than $10,000 at stake."

Gervais said: "That's right. I don't regret it for one moment. Ernie's absolutely right."

TWO CARS

Gervais said each rink agreed to take two cars and to play the sudden-death final for second prize.

The Edmonton skip said he was not too keen on the decision to split the cars. "It was my boys," he added. "They thought it would be a good idea. So did Ernie and the other Richardsons."

Both Gervais and Richardson denied that the final game was fixed. "There was far too much at stake from a prestige point of view," Richardson said. "Losing that game was a hard pill to swallow."

Norman Austman, president of Masters Sports Ltd., sponsors of the bonspiel, said he had no idea that a deal had been made.

"I would have prevented it had I known. But let's face it, this kind of thing is going on all the time in curling and other sports," he said.

WHITE AS SHEET

Austman said Richardson was upset following his defeat. "He was white as a sheet for hours after that last stone was thrown by Hector. After all, he lost a lot of prestige. He wanted to win the championship badly."

Charlie Scott, secretary of the Alberta branch of the Royal Caledonian Curling Club, said he didn't blame Gervais or Richardson for splitting the top prize.

"After all, it's done in other sports. I can't see any sense in one man taking all. It's too big a gamble to take in a final," he said.

JAPANESE TRIUMPH

BERN, Switzerland (AP) — Japan's Olympic hockey team defeated the Swiss S.C. of Bern 5-4 Tuesday night.

Jonathan to Face Enrique Torres

Big Don Leo Jonathan will match muscles with Mexico's Enrique Torres in the top spot on Saturday's professional wrestling show at Memorial Arena.

Also carded is a tag-team bout between Gene Kiniski and Mike Sharpe and the duo of Roy McClarty and Tex McKenzie.

Round out the program, which starts at 8:15, are bouts between Bad Boy Shields and Joe Noshio, Kiniski and McClarty.

Alloa Moves Along

ALLOA, Scotland (Reuters) — Alloa beat Montrose 3-2 in their Scottish Football Association Cup first-round replay Tuesday and will be at home to Airdieonians in the second round Jan. 25.

Thomas' Confidence Restored by Ballet

NEW YORK (AP) — John Thomas was a high jumper who has been at the age of 21. But now he's back because of ballet lessons.

Ballet lessons?

"Why not?" said coach Tom Duffy. "They tend to loosen up thigh muscles, give greater spring and they relax an athlete. And when a man is relaxed, he's confident. When he's confident, he's ready."

And Thomas, once again, is ready. He demonstrated it last weekend with a leap of seven feet, two inches in Boston's big track meet, the opener of the eastern indoor season.

He failed three times at seven feet, 4½ inches, a quarter of an inch better than the indoor record at Tokyo.

Lions Barnstorm ...As Basketballers

VANCOUVER (CP) — British Columbia Lions, champions of the Western Football Conference, are forming a barnstorming basketball team to take on high school teams throughout the province.

The team—dubbed the Joe Kapp All-Stars—plans to hit the courts in February and March. Next year, they may tackle senior men's teams.

Denny Veitch, minor football co-ordinator for the Lions, is business manager of the All-Stars; quarterback Kapp is head coach and end Pat Clardige is court manager.

Veitch is arranging a tentative 10-game schedule which will take the basketballers through Chilliwack, Nanaimo, Victoria, Kelowna, Penticton and Kamloops.

Games will be sponsored by the host cities with all gate profits going to community or scholastic funds. Sponsors will pay only travel expenses for

Hornets Collect Second Victory

Mount View Hornets upset their hosts 40-35 at Mount Douglas Tuesday to collect their second victory of the season in the Inter-High School Senior Boys' Basketball League.

Pete Isaacson and Brian Brumwell paced the Hornets to the win, scoring 16 and 11 points, respectively.

Scoring:

Mount View: Isaacson 16, Brumwell 11, Williams 5, Atkins 4, Cox 4, Price 2, Russell 2, Evans 2, Total 41. Mount Douglas: Thorpe 8, Bourne 2, Stinson 4, McMillan 3, Lamb 3, Strongman 4, Total 35.

MILLAR THE MAULER

Denver Goalie Gets Heave-Ho

By The Canadian Press

Peppered with 36 goal shots and three third-period goals, Denver goalie Al Millar could stand it no longer and he retaliated Tuesday night.

Millar roared out of his net in pursuit of attackers, aped 18 minutes in penalties and was finally ejected from the Western Hockey League game to sit and watch the Invaders fall to a 5-1 defeat at the hands of Vancouver Canucks.

In the only other game, San Francisco Seals moved into a third-place tie with Portland with a 5-2 win over the Buckaroos in a comparatively quiet contest.

At one point in Vancouver, Millar's aggressiveness proved his undoing.

The 2,755 fans watched Vancouver's Dave Duke head for the Denver goal after a breakaway. The fiery Millar came out to meet him and knocked the right-winger to the ice.

But as Duke fell, he slapped the puck, and it rolled 25 feet into the open net.

The action meant automatic suspension and fines for Millar. Defenceman Sandy Hucul dressed to replace Millar and managed to save league-leading Denver more embarrassment by kicking out three more Vancouver shots in the dying seconds.

There won't be much poise and finesse but the joy of unrestrained enthusiasm that is novice boxing will be in abundant display at Britannia Branch No. 1, Canadian Legion, 1616 Blanchard, Thursday at 8 p.m.

The Legion is sponsoring a novice card bringing together youngsters from London Boxing Club of Victoria and Newcastle Boxing Club of Nanaimo in 12 bouts.

WILSON WON'T PLAY . . . IN OLYMPICS

Bauer Names 'the 17'

ZURICH, Switzerland (CP)—The 17 men who will make up Canada's team in the 1964 Winter Olympic Games hockey tournament were named Tuesday by Rev. David Bauer, coach of the Canadian Olympics.

Bauer had to cut four of the 21 men travelling with the Olympics, currently in the midst of a 10-game exhibition tour preceding the opening of the tournament here Jan. 29.

"The four, who will remain with the team through its tour and during the Games in Innsbruck, Austria, but will not play in the Olympic tournament, are:

"Okay, she was fouled . . . but isn't giving her six free throws showing favoritism?"

Goalie Rick Broadbelt of Montreal, defenceman Jack

Wilson of Victoria, and forwards Al McLean of New Westminster, B.C., and David Merrifield of Port Arthur, Ont.

Bauer announced the names when the Canadian team passed through here en route to Moscow where two exhibition games are scheduled Wednesday and Friday.

Monday was the deadline for naming the 17 men who will make up the team.

LARGE-SIZE GOLF BALL EMPHASIZES BAD SHOTS

LONDON (AP)—Joe Carr, captain of Britain's Walker Cup team, appealed to leading British amateur golfers Tuesday to play exclusively with the large American-sized ball.

"I want every potential cup player to use the big ball from now until we go to America in 18 months' time," the Irish star said.

"We must do everything in our power to make a better showing over there."

Carr's call followed Monday's decision by the British Professional Golfers' Association to use the bigger ball in all major pro tournaments. It is 1.68 inches in diameter, compared with the 1.62-inch ball normally used in Britain. They weigh the same.

Carr, who has been to the United States five times as a Walker Cupper, told reporters:

"Every time we played with the big ball, but it did not do us any good because we had not practised with it long enough. I am certain that the big ball makes golfers better strikers because it emphasizes bad shots."

MAJOR POLICY SHIFT

Loan for Roads Due in Saanich

A proposed $2 million public works project for Saanich likely will toll the death knell of the municipality's pay-as-you-go policy in 1965.

MORE STRIFE FEARED ON CYPRUS

LONDON (Reuters) — Commonwealth Secretary Duncan Sandy's warned the opening session of an international conference on Cyprus today that failure to reach agreement might lead to a new and greater flareup of communal violence on the Mediterranean island. Today's initial half-hour plenary session, held in Marlborough House, the Commonwealth centre in London, adjourned after Sandy's speech until Thursday morning.

ATHENS (AP) — Thousands of students marched through the Greek capital and Salonika in the north today demanding union with Greece for Cyprus. Their rallies coincided with the opening of the London conference on the Cyprus question.

Oak Bay Seeks Views On Centre

Oak Bay ratepayers are being invited to express their views on the municipality's proposed recreation centre in written submissions to council.

Reeve Allan Cox announced this morning that Oak Bay council is anxious to receive any written submissions by any ratepayer or interested organization, relative to the site, type and extent of facilities in the recreation centre to be put to the ratepayers as soon as possible.

Copies of rough drawings and site plans prepared by the recreation committee are now posted in the lobby of Oak Bay Municipal Hall. These plans illustrate how the site could be utilized and what facilities could be included, but they are not the final plans.

Cost of the centre would not be incurred unless a favorable vote is received from the ratepayers.

Proposed site at present is the park area adjacent to the Fire Hall and facilities include a swimming pool, skating and curling rinks and club rooms for other recreational activities.

The committee report is currently under study by council. Once a final decision is reached as to the site and type of centre to be developed, Reeve Cox said a special advisory committee will be set up composed of representatives of interested community organizations and residents holding a special interest in the project.

Toronto Airport Opens 'Aeroquay'

TORONTO (CP) — Toronto International Airport's first aeroquay—there will eventually be four—opened here Saturday.

Facilities at the doughnut-shaped, seven-storey complex, easily the most prominent building on the 4,000-acre $42,000,000 airport, range from luxurious hotel accommodation to a jail.

It contains a dozen departure rooms that circle the building, an equal number of open observation decks for visitors, conference rooms, restaurant, bar and a nursery. On top there is parking space for 2,400 cars.

The aeroquay will rank the airport as one of the most modern air terminals in the world.

Surplus Predicted For Student Treasury

University of Victoria student president Larry Devlin today forecast a financial surplus in April despite a precarious budget situation.

Alma Mater Society treasurer George Copley reported to student council Sunday there would have to be a penny pinching to keep within the $19,100 remaining in the student treasury after spending amounting to $22,000 in the fall term.

"There will have to be close budgeting and a watch on spending," Mr. Devlin agreed, "but I'm confident of a surplus at the end of the term."

"It will be between $2,000 and $3,000 to carry the council through the summer," he predicted.

"We simply cannot spend as lavishly as in the first term and expect to remain solvent," the treasurer said.

Part of the high cost then was due to subsidiary student groups exceeding their budgets, and the fact that certain money-making operations failed to reach expectations.

One such was the vending machine layout in the Student Union, which netted the treasury only about $60 a month, despite earnings of about $1,000.

Mr. Devlin said it is planned to abandon the machines in favor of a student-operated concession to provide light lunches, coffee, candy and soft drinks.

As soon as the cost of switching from machines is determined, the concession will be set up, using a hired operator, he said.

He hopes to earn $400-$500 a month for the student treasury this way.

'Forest Planting Must Be Expanded'

VANCOUVER (CP) — It's time to revise and expand British Columbia's reforestation program, says Wallace W. Balkie, president of the B.C. Truck Loggers Association.

Interviewed before Tuesday's opening of the 21st annual truck loggers' convention, he said a sound new program will give the small logger a bigger cut now and ensure him crops in future.

Mr. Balkie noted that holders of tree farm licences carry out reforestation programs as a condition on the licences. The B.C. Forest Service plants in many logged-over areas.

But the association seeks reforestation among sustained yield units and public working circles. The small logger would have the opportunity of "signing on" for tree planting where he cuts timber, with the forest service assuming the cost.

Reforestation will be one of the key issues at the convention, which is expected to draw an attendance as high as 1,000.

$35-$95 Annually to Get City Water for Prospect

Piping city water into the Prospect Lake area will cost about $230,613, municipal engineer Neville Life told Saanich public works committee Tuesday night.

Installing sewers in the area would be prohibitively expensive, he said.

Mr. Life's report was prepared after earlier surveys indicated Prospect Lake was too polluted for household use, and was in danger of further contamination.

The biggest problem in the way of ensuring safe use of the lake was unrestricted building around its shores, he reported.

Assuming that only the densely-settled northern lake area was supplied with city water, cost to the homeowner would be between $35 and $95 a year, he said.

About 150 of the 200 homes would be charged $35, because most lots have very narrow frontage.

Also presented at the public works committee meeting were the recommendations of municipal planner Tony Parr.

He called for:

No public water supply beyond the small properties at the north end of the lake;

Zoning of other land in the Prospect Lake watershed into large lots—minimum 10 acres;

And eventual acquisition by Saanich of lake frontage at the south end for park purposes, and with adequate depth to tie in with a potential green belt across the municipality.

These steps are necessary, he says, if further pollution of the lake is to be avoided and property values in the area maintained.

The information in Mr. Life's report will be sent to residents of the Prospect Lake area.

A public meeting will be called so Lake residents can discuss the problem with council.

Seven Die In 'Quake

JAKARTA, Indonesia (Reuters) — Seven persons were killed, 11 injured and at least 500 buildings collapsed when an earthquake shook the town of Panrang in the South Celebes Jan. 9, Antara news agency reported Wednesday. The Red Cross sent doctors, food and medicine to the town, Antara said.

'Being Invaded' Main Industry Of Ancient French City of Metz

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

When winter suns slants through the high stained-glass windows of Metz Cathedral in northwestern France, it throws a pattern on the old stone floor that suggests a richly-colored flower bed.

The brilliant light is matched by a blaze of candles surrounding a white marble statue of the Virgin Mary directly opposite. By contrast the nave is so high its ceiling seems lost in a whorl of shadows.

On a recent visit to the RCAF's No. 1 Air Division at Metz, I was taken on a tour of the vast cathedral by Flight-Sgt. Allan Walker, formerly of Victoria.

"You don't have to be a Roman Catholic to appreciate this place," he said. "Many Canadian airmen and their families come here on Sunday afternoons and enjoy a feeling of contact with history they cannot get at home."

12th Century

Allan Walker, I should add, has a dramatic instinct. He took a leading part in our Victoria Centennial pageant in Royal Athletic Park in 1962, and the RCAF authorities are probably wise in assigning him to conduct visiting newspapermen around these ancient precincts.

He will tell you, with something like native pride, that Metz Cathedral was begun in the early 12th century and completed in the 15th.

He will show you its massive German gates, named after the Teutonic knights, which form part of the city's historic fortifications. And he will direct your attention to shrapnel wounds in the walls of the cathedral which resulted from Allied air force raids on the city during its occupation by Germany in the Second World War.

Great Irony

On a tour of the city, we met dark-eyed Louis Wolben, a still attractive city librarian, who was born out of her home in 1944.

"It was one of the great ironies of the war," she said. "We wanted to be liberated from German rule—we hated it—yet it was the forces of our friends which destroyed our home and killed many of our relatives and friends."

"Some while later, I asked: 'What is the principal industry of Metz?'"

"Being invaded," she replied.

It was a darkly ironic remark, touched with humor, but beneath it was a note of sadness—the minor key of the speaking voice.

A war widow, Mrs. Wolben told of the turbulent history of Metz—invaded, sacked, burned—occupied alternately by France and Germany.

It is located in the ancient French province of Lorraine, one of the two lost provinces of Alsace and Lorraine which were taken over by the Germans after the Franco-Prussian War of 1870.

From then until 1919 the two provinces were part of Germany.

After the First World War they were returned to France. In 1940 they were taken over by the Germans. In 1945 they again reverted to France.

From all this conflict of ownership, the city of Metz has emerged as a modern, progressive city with a population of around 100,000, standing in the heart of a world-famous coal and iron-producing area.

Its history goes back more than 2,000 years to the time when a primitive Gallic tribe settled there.

Trade Centre

The Romans developed it into an important trading centre with considerable fortifications. But, after their legions were withdrawn in the fourth century, the city was invaded and destroyed by the Huns.

Over the next thousand years, Metz was the scene of much bitter fighting, passing from one kingdom, duchy or empire to another.

Today Metz is part of France, though some of its older families still speak German, and some of the children don't know which country they belong to.

Three B.C. University Presidents Coming for Town and Gown Forum

Three of B.C.'s four university presidents will come together for the first time in a public forum on higher education Jan. 31 at University of Victoria.

The meeting will be a key note of a two-day open house at Gordon Head campus, first showing to the public of its $5,190,886 investment there since the institution gained university status last July.

Leading the seminar, slated for the evening of Jan. 31, will be University of B.C. president Dr. John Barfoot MacDonald, Simon Fraser University president Dr. Patrick Duncan McTaggart-Cowan, and Notre Dame University president Father Aquinas Thomas of Nelson.

Canadian Universities Foundation research director Dr. G. F. Sheffield and University of Victoria English department head Prof. Roger Bishop will complete the speakers to deal with many facets of higher education.

There will be representation in the seminar of persons involved in education and from the community at large, making it a "town and gown" discussion.

TAYLOR EXPECTED

New University of Victoria president Dr. Malcolm G. Taylor is expected to make his first visit to the campus since his appointment last month during the open house affair. He is serving out his term as president of the University of Alberta at Calgary.

Willard Ireland, of UVic board of governors, will chair the meeting and chancellor Judge J. B. Clearihue will be present.

The public will be shown in guided tours Feb. 1 and 2 the campus as developed and as planned.

They will see building and site development completed with a value of $3,792,739, another $1,398,146 worth under construction and a further $1,416,850 worth of planned work.

SOME FINISHED

A classroom block, student union building and science building are finished, the library is well under way, residences begun and a science lecture theatre about to begin.

There will be expenditures for furnishing and landscaping in the new campus circle that will finish off the first university development program.

There will be representation in the seminar of persons involved in education and from the community at large, making it a "town and gown" discussion.

ON DISPLAY

The second development program, due to begin this year, will be detailed as part of a display by the development board.

Sixteen other university departments in arts and science and the faculty of education will have table and wall displays covering a broad range of academic endeavors. Some will conduct practical demonstrations.

Up to 10,000 persons are expected to take advantage of the open house.

Arthur Mayse

Before anyone else suggests to me that the current hit, "Something to Sing About", would make a fine new Canadian anthem, here's one chilly fact to consider.

That ardent, patriotic song with its swinging tune, and its lyric which dwells tenderly on maple trees, wheat fields and all, is Canadian only by adoption.

It's a remake, cunningly styled for the Dominion melody market, of an American ballad which originally hymned the beauties of the U.S.A. from California to Rhode Island, or maybe it was Manhattan. Naturally, it's been changed to accommodate a bundle of provincial place names.

The procedure is entirely legal, of course, and we in Canada should be grateful that so gifted a folk singer as Oscar Brand sees fit to praise our country with this retreat lay.

Still, it does lend poignancy to a question which has puzzled me at intervals ever since I was old enough to join a class of toddlers in a typical, mournful rendition of "The Ma...pul Lea Fu reva!"

Why has nobody ever at any time, either before or after Confederation, managed to dower Canada with a singable national song?

The best we've yet been able to offer, heaven help us, is "Alouette," and come to think of it, we didn't originate that one, either. It's a steal from Old France.

I'm not a song-writer, so don't look to me for a piece which will help correct the impression that Canadians are a real sad bunch except when turned loose on an expense account in Miami.

It's the bold young blades, the university students and such, who should be giving out with the songs our nation needs if we're to bind salmonberry, herring-choker and provincials of every other persuasion in the same love-knot.

But do they? Will they? Uh-uh! Not those golden lads! Too busy listening while some damnyankee folk singer rhymes "Alberta highland" with "Vancouver Island."

And to H. G. Howard, who in Tuesday's letters to the editor, charges me with annoying him seriously two days running.

The first you explained: we don't agree about titles for Canadians. But tell me, what was that second beef?

COOKIE'S the name, but the manner is anything but "Kookie." This is obvious to any stranger who attempts to enter Madeline Cuppage's automobile while Cookie is on guard and Madeline is at business school. Cookie's photo is being sent to Hollywood TV producer Dick Wesson as a possible candidate for a role in the comedy series "Petitcoat Junction." Times readers with canine dates for a video career are invited to send pictures of their pet mongrels—they must be mongrels—to Mutts Unlimited, care of this newspaper.

Ex-Mayor Scurrah Condition 'Good'

Ex-Mayor Percy Scurrah was reported in good condition at Royal Jubilee Hospital today following abdominal surgery Tuesday.

A pair of messages, the first aimed at a party who insists the likeness at the top of this corner shows too much of a puss.

Look, doll or guy as the case may be, let's not rock the status quo. Picturewise, take my word for it: we could go farther and fare worse!

And to H. G. Howard, who in Tuesday's letters to the editor, charges me with annoying him seriously two days running.

The first you explained:

we don't agree about titles for Canadians. But tell me, what was that second beef?

TOPICS of the DAY

There are still openings in the YM-YWCA creative arts course for children, instructor Beverly Banks said today.

The course, open to boys and girls in the elementary school age group, encompasses drama, art and exercise. First of the 10 two-hour sessions will be held Saturday at 10 a.m. Fee is 25 cents per session.

THURSDAY MEETINGS

Ss. Beaver Kiwanis Club: 7:30 a.m., Tally Ho; Michael Heppel, assistant commissioner, Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, "The Value of the Tourist Dollar in our Area."

Victoria Rotary Club: 12:10 p.m., Empress Hotel; annual address to the club by Victoria Mayor R. B. Wilson.

Oak Bay Kiwanis Club: 6:15 p.m., Oak Bay Beach Hotel; color slide tour of Greece presented by Dave Barker.

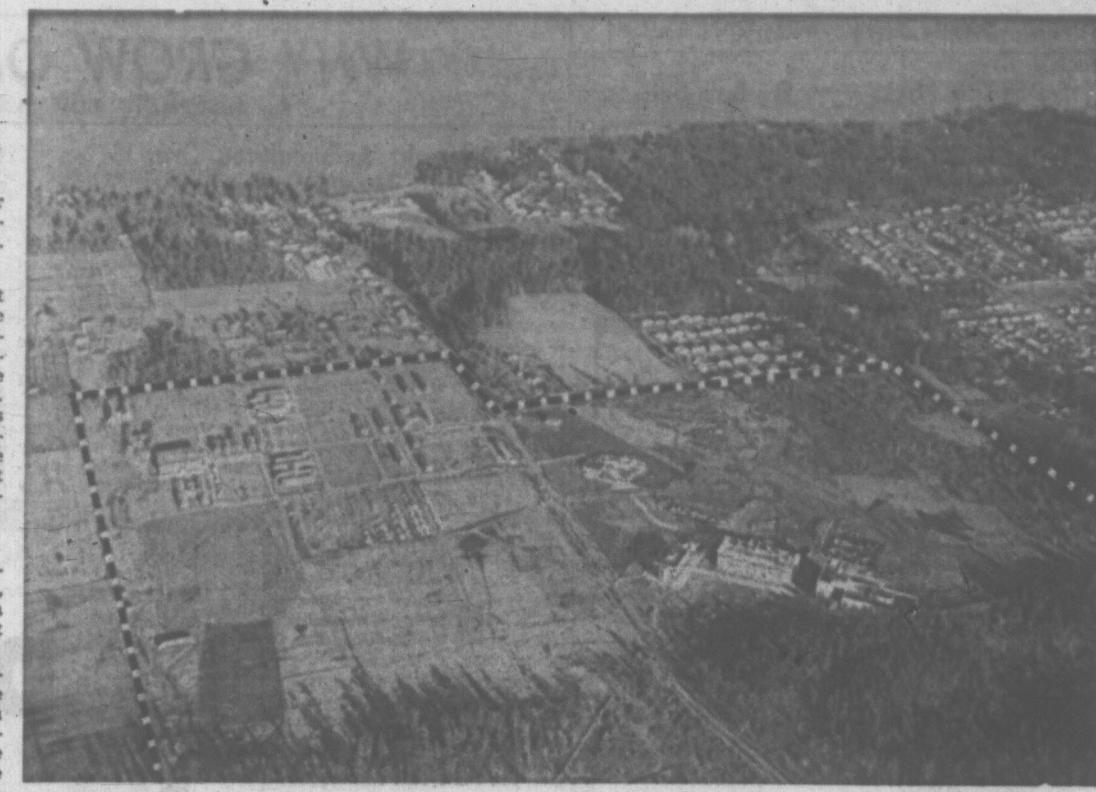

Ask The Times

Q. Does the federal cabinet have a secretary to make a record of proceedings? If so, is the secretary one of the cabinet members? What becomes of the records when a new party comes into office? M.D.

A. The federal cabinet has a secretary; he is not a cabinet member and the records are made available to an incoming cabinet should the government change hands.

All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. They do not relate to political or legal problems. No one will attempt to put a value on old coins, stamps or antiques. There should be no personal attacks.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along in the Times, addressed to "Ask the Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

Students Organize Protest Over Move to Raise Fees

Fear of tuition fees more than doubling in the next six years has sparked a student protest at University of Victoria.

Up to 10,000 persons are expected to take advantage of the open house.

of a million dollars—should a fee increase even be considered."

A fee increase will mean a further gap in a student's personal financing, causing him to seek more part-time employment, jeopardizing his studies and affecting the whole academic picture, Mr. Devlin said.

The tax-paying parent with a son or daughter at university is already heavily subsidizing higher education, he said.

The government would be asking the same question in different terms—why one university is able to operate on its grant, while the other can't.

It costs about $1,300 a year to put each student through arts and science, bursar Robert McQueen said.

Student council was to hold a special meeting today, followed by a mass meeting of students Monday at Lansdowne auditorium where a 2,000-name petition of protest to the board of governors will be sought.

Concern has mounted since a fee increase of $150 in the next three years was predicted at University of B.C.

CLOSE GAP

UBC President Dr. John B. MacDonald Tuesday outlined the university's financial and academic aspirations of the next five years, indicating a fee increase would be necessary to help close the gap in rising costs.

Willard Ireland, of UVic board of governors, said: "As far as University of Victoria is concerned, the fee structure will have to be reviewed by the board in the light of final, detailed revision of fees at UBC."

UVic is not bound by the same fee structure and there is possibility of different fee increases in different faculties at UBC, he pointed out.

OPTIONS

BUT IT WAS REPORTED THAT SEVERAL LARGE FARM OWNERS HAVE BEEN APPROACHED AND SOME HAVE SOLD OPTIONS ON THEIR PROPERTIES IN THE PAST TWO WEEKS.

SEVERAL LOCAL REAL ESTATE AGENTS CONFIRMED THERE WAS AN UNUSUAL AMOUNT OF ACTIVITY IN THE RACETRACK AREA SENDING PRICES SOARING BUT NO FIRM DETAILS WERE KNOWN.

MOST LANDOWNS IN THE AREA WERE TIGHT-LIPPED WHEN CONTACTED BUT ONE MAN SAID IT WAS OBVIOUS THAT THE LAND ASSEMBLY WAS A MAJOR EFFORT.

"THE STORY IS THAT IT'S FOR A BIG SUBDIVISION DEVELOPMENT," HE SAID. "SEVERAL FAIRLY SMART MEN HERE HAVE BEEN TIED UP SO I THINK IT MUST BE PRETTY SOLID."

"BUT THERE STILL ARE A FEW HOLDOUTS AND THEY HAVEN'T COMPLETED GETTING ALL OF THE BLOCK THEY WANT."

THE DRIVER WAS TAKEN TO ROYAL JUBILEE HOSPITAL FOR TREATMENT AND WAS QUESTIONED THERE ABOUT THE ACCIDENT.

POLICE SAID HE WILL BE SUSPENDED LATER.

Major Subdivision In Works at Sidney

A Vancouver realty firm is trying to option a huge tract of farm lands north of the Sandown racetrack, it was reported today.

Another promotion revealed a few weeks ago involves a Vancouver firm's efforts to develop a full-scale retirement and subdivision development in the Island View beach region of Central Saanich.

Rapid development of the peninsula, particularly by Vancouver firms, has been frequently predicted since the government ferries' success was assured.

Oak Bay Police Quickly Snare Hit-Run Driver

A hit-and-run driver, who ripped the top of his car in an accident in the 1600 block of Pembroke early today, was caught at his Esplanade home minutes later by Oak Bay police.

The runaway vehicle scattered papers, including the registration slip, as it drove from the scene where it had collided with two parked cars.

A description of the car was immediately broadcast and Oak Bay officers located the badly damaged vehicle outside an Esplanade address.

The driver was taken to Royal Jubilee Hospital for treatment and was questioned there about the accident.

Police said he will be summoned later.

Make New Hats Now

By PENNY SAVER

Have you some pieces of material left from that last suit or dress you made? Don't throw them away because this year's fashion trends are swinging to hats which match your suits and dresses. And, what better way to match them than to use some of your leftover material?

If you're doubtful about whether or not you can make a hat, why not take lessons in the shop Penny was in today. Four lessons cost $5 and eight lessons, $10.

Woman who teaches lessons says the most important things about making a hat are finishing it properly, both inside and out, and using the proper trim.

Some of the most popular trims available in this shop are feather bands. Coq feathers, to place around the brim of the hat, were priced at $1.20 but are now selling for 60 cents. Ostrich bands are reduced from $6.95 to $3.48; and ostrich plumes sell at 50 cents each.

Various sizes and shapes of hat forms are priced from 95 cents to $2; heavy maribou forms, at $1, and velour bodies, made in Italy, at $3.50.

For actually covering of the forms, shop sells Swiss and Italian straw braids priced from 20 cents a yard to $1 a yard; veiling in green, coral, blue, beige, white, pink and black from 35 cents to $2 a yard, and flowers such as roses and orchids in organza and velvet from 15 cents upwards.

Shop also carries tubing, thread, ribbon and millinery cement for making the hats.

If you would like to make your spring hats early, call Penny at 382-3131 for name and location of this shop.

New Home Recipe Reducing Plan

It's simple how quickly one can lose bulky fat and help regain slender more graceful curves; if right in your own home. Make this home recipe yourself. It's easy, no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your drug store and ask for four ounces of Narcan Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Take two tablespoons full a day as needed and follow the Narcan Plan.

If your first purchase does not show you a simple easy way to

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Weight Accumulated Over Years Won't Leave Fast

Those of you who are following my Eight-Week Beauty Improvement Plan now have all of the information you need to carry on by yourselves. However, I will give one day a week for the remainder of the eight weeks to bring you encouragement and additional information.

The first two weeks of any reducing routine are so important! These are the days when sore muscles from exercise, and a hollow feeling because of less food are apt to discourage the reducer.

Also, many women are impatient, and expect to rapidly lose the pounds it took them years to accumulate. Therefore, I think this is the time to give you some real encouragement.

By this I mean that I am going to give you a few quotes from letters I have received from women who used this plan last year. For example:

"I have just finished your Eight-Week Beauty Improvement Plan. I am going to continue with it for another month or two. I weighed 170 pounds when I started and now I weigh 134 pounds. I kept my daily calorie intake to 1,200. I never knew how to count calories before."

"I am having the greatest success with your BIP plan. This is my first experience with overweight. I gained 50 pounds having my first baby. She is now five months old and I have been so anxious to get back to my slim self again."

I think my greatest reward is having my husband admire my figure again and not tease me about it any more. I just can't wait to get into my pretty clothes again."

Pioneer Club, Woman's Benefit Association, Review No. 1, Friday at 2:30 p.m., home of Mrs. K. Jackson, 2023 Sayward Street.

should not happen, but when it does, the young mother is wise to diet and exercise as soon as her doctor gives her the green light.

If you missed some of this series or would like to have the BIP kit, which gives you complete directions and information and also the BIP wall chart, on which you can plot your weight and see your beauty line rise as your weight line drops, send 25 cents (plus 15 cents for postage and handling) with your name and address to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Many young women are surprised and dismayed when they become obese during pregnancy. Of course this really paper.

Mrs. Kennedy Says 'Thank You'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The tears in her eyes glistened under the bright television lights, but she never faltered.

Mrs. John F. Kennedy, the terrible memory of Nov. 22 still fresh in her mind, went on nationwide television yesterday to thank the nearly 600,000 persons from all over the world who have written her letters of condolence.

The knowledge of the affection in which my husband was held by all of you has sustained me, and the warmth of these tributes is something I shall never forget," she said.

Then, swallowing hard, she added in a low voice that and every message is to be treasured not only for my children, but so that future generations will know how much our country and people in other nations thought of him."

The dark-haired widow said the letters would be placed with the late president's other papers in the Kennedy Memorial Library to be built near Harvard University, overlooking the Charles River at Boston.

The attorney-general announced Monday that the Kennedy family had contributed $1 million to the campaign to raise $10 million for the library.

Misgivings About Hitch-Hiking Dispelled as Two Friends Make Their Way Across Europe

By JUDY RICHARDSON
Former Times staffer Judy Richardson and her friend Linda Scales, who travelled across Canada last year, are now in Europe. They will soon be hearing more of their adventures from abroad.

The thumb has it for European travel, as far as we are concerned.

In three weeks' of hitch-hiking from Boulogne to Madrid, we met a greater cross-section of people than we could have travelling any other way. And not once did we run into any of the unpleasantness that people always suggest Richardson may be the lot of girls who hitch-hike.

Proof is in some of the people we did meet.

Our first ride was with a Mr. Duncan whom we met on the ferry to Boulogne. He'd left his wife and three daughters in London while he returned a rented car to Paris. The family was on a round-the-world trip but usually made their home on a vast farm in Kenya. He had a fatherly interest in hitch-hikers for one of his daughters was planning a trip such as ours for next summer.

When we reached our destination—Beauvais—he didn't leave us until he had made sure we knew our way to the youth hostels.

On another occasion we were panicking up the inevitable hill that always seems to greet us on the outskirts of cities, when we had to pass a group of also inevitable workmen. Whistles, comments and laughs are our usual reception and we usually ignore them. But, this time one little man seemed particularly insistent in his comments. We stopped to listen and translate the French.

"You have to ask for a ride. You can't expect them to stop if you make no sign. Don't be afraid. Where are you going?"

"I don't speak French very

"Alencon," I stammered, a bit taken aback by this assumption of fear on our part.

"Well, there's a truck driver in that bar across the street and he's going to Bordeaux. Why not ask him?"

Picture us marching into a bar and asking the man for a ride!

"I don't speak French very a well," I demurred, "Would you up into the cab — watched not despite the language barrier, to do you come from?" I went through my explanation of Canada, West Coast, British Columbia, Vancouver Island.

Wonder of wonders! He knew where British Columbia was. He had, in fact, worked at Campbell River, for 10 years, for a well-known logging company.

One ride made the whole day worthwhile. The driver asked us the expected question: "Where are you going?"

The driver was still urging us,

Up-Island Debutantes

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. George R. Pearkes will receive debutantes at the second annual Debutante Ball to be held in Nanaimo. Affair is sponsored by the Nanaimo Branch of the Navy League of Canada and will be held on May 9. Branch president is Mr. Lyle Wilkinson of Bluebell Terrace, Nanaimo. Debutantes will be chosen from as far south as Duncan and as far north as Courtenay. The young ladies' chaperone will be Mrs. Philip Townsend of Nanaimo.

Date Announced

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Johnston, 676 Jones Terrace, wish to announce the engagement of their daughter, Louise, to Mr. Reginald Charles Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Davis of Vancouver. The wedding will take place on March 7 in Ryerson United Church, Vancouver.

Return Home

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest L. Shaw and Miss Lilly M. Shaw returned to their homes in Victoria. Sunday evening, from a three-and-a-half week holiday in Honolulu where they spent the Yuletide staying at the Reef Tower Hotel of Waikiki.

Rosemus-Sage Vows Heard

Dr. S. J. Parsons heard marriage vows exchanged between Lynda Rae Sage and William Alexander Rosemus at a double-ring ceremony in Centennial United Church.

Parents of the principals are Mr. and Mrs. Stanley F. Sage, 3056 Washington Avenue, and Mrs. M. Rosemus, 419 Ker Avenue. Mr. Sage gave his daughter in marriage.

The bride chose a white brocade sheath dress, styled with round neckline and three-quarter-length sleeves trimmed with white fur. She wore white accessories, white maribou hat and corsage of deep pink roses. Only pearl earrings, gift of the groom.

Only attendant, Mrs. P. O'Connor, wore a beige wool suit, brown accessories, toning hat and trimmings with net veiling and yellow rose corsage.

Showers for Bride-Elect

A decorated airplane held gifts for Miss Lois Bennett when she was honored at a shower in the Allenby Street home of Mrs. A. Bouchard. Co-hostesses were Mrs. G. Macadam and Miss Judy Hanson. Carnation corsages were presented to the bride-elect, to her mother, Mrs. C. J. Bennett, and the groom-elect's mother, Mrs. C. Bath.

Invited guests included Mrs. J. Bennett, Mrs. A. Bishop, Mrs. R. Elevins, Mrs. A. Bouchard, Mrs. H. Bailey, Mrs. G. Brown, Mrs. H. Bosom, Mrs. E. Hanson, Mrs. G. Jeune, Mrs. G. Storrie, Mrs. A. Exquisite Gown Worn By Norma Smith

A gown of cored silk, enhanced with lace and sequins, was worn by Norma Lynne Smith when she exchanged marriage vows with Frederick George Beacham.

A three-tier wedding cake, placed on a large mirror, centred the lace-covered table. Cake was topped with an arch of lilies-of-the-valley and two doves holding rings. Table decorations were completed with pink and white roses and yellow and mauve sweetpeas.

For travelling on a honeymoon trip to Washington, the bride wore a pale pink wool sheath dress with matching coat, white accessories, white maribou hat and corsage of deep pink roses. Only pearl earrings, gift of the groom.

Only attendant, Mrs. P. O'Connor, wore a beige wool suit, brown accessories, toning hat and trimmings with net veiling and yellow rose corsage.

'Not-Out' Is 'In'

OTTAWA (CP)—This item appeared in the social pages of a local newspaper:

"Miss Ann Davis, daughter of the chief of protocol, Mr. Henry F. Davis, and Mrs. Davis, entertained at a not-out dinner party in their residence, Rockcliffe Park."

Attendants, Miss Diane Croft and Miss Malinda Sangha, wore identical cocktail-length gowns of Wedgewood blue velvet and matching bow headpieces. White gardenias and carnations were in their bouquets.

Petite flower girl, Miss Lori Dodsworth, wore a Wedgewood blue velvet frock trimmed with fur. She carried a nosegay of white carnations centred with a single rose.

Best man was Ted Roberts, Vancouver, and ushers were Harold Beacham, brother of the groom, Powell River, and Ed Fitterer.

A three-tier wedding cake, topped with orange blossoms and love birds, centred the lace-covered bride's table at a reception in the parish hall. Tall white candles, white gardenias and carnations completed the decor. Rev. Colin Campbell proposed the toast.

For travelling on a honeymoon trip to Vancouver, the bride wore a cranberry red wool suit in semi-fitted style, black patent accessories.

For the not-out party?

People in the social swim explained today that it's a party for socialites too young to go out to cocktail parties and the like.

In short, not-out replaces the term pre-deb because the debante business has fallen on hard times.

DEAR ABBY . . .

Shopper's Blues!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a man past the age of love problems, but there is another problem. Each time I go downtown to shop for underwear I find it very embarrassing to be confronted with females in the men's underwear department. I cannot figure out why department stores put female clerks in that department. I am sure no lady would care to have a man wait on her in the ladies' underwear department. I have walked out of more department stores without buying anything for that reason. Please answer this if you can.

UPSET.

DEAR UPSET: Tell your mother-in-law that as far as you are concerned, your husband is lily white, and unless she can come up with names, dates and pictures you aren't interested in second-hand reports. Then forget it.

DEAR ABBY: Your column is read to me daily as I am blind. About the lady who wrote to Sears for a Do-It-Yourself Dental kit, and Sears took it as a joke. I agree, Abby, that dentistry takes skill, but no order should be laughed at.

I happen to know that many years ago a man wrote to one Sears store for a wife—and he got her! This young widower filled out an order blank for fun in the presence of some friends at the request of his young son who wanted a "Mommy." They mailed it, and when the "order" arrived, the clerk who got it asked if anyone there could fill it. A little widow, who was the mother of a small daughter, said she'd go if he would send the fare. So Sears informed the man. He sent the fare to see what she looked like, she made the trip, and they lived as happily ever after as any other couple.

'FIGHT WHIGS, NOT TORIES'

'Catch a Vision' John D. Urges

VANCOUVER (CP) — Opposition Leader John Diefenbaker, in a partisan speech to 700 party supporters, urged Tuesday night that "we start fighting Whigs rather than fight among ourselves."

He said a Progressive Conservative government can be restored in Ottawa only if the party can "catch a vision, build unity and a common dedication."

Mr. Diefenbaker referred to the Conservative national meeting next month in Ottawa as a place to set the stage. He left out any direct reference to the question of a vote on his leadership, but he said he has "hundreds" of helpful suggestions on the party's future and Conservatives must be united in pursuing them.

"We must be careful that we don't let the Liberals determine our course," he told a rally in the 800-seat ballroom of Hotel Vancouver.

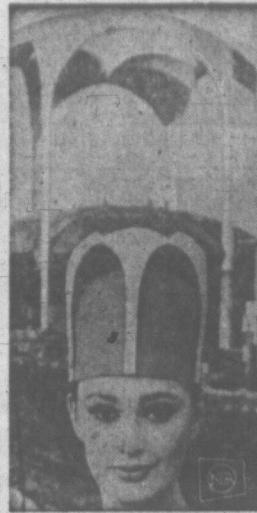

Mr. Diefenbaker enlarged his plea for unity to the national scene. If a Conservative government were still in office, he said, "Confederation wouldn't be torn apart as it is under this administration."

Criticizes Government

He accused the Liberal government of following "the old principle of divide and rule" in its dealings with the provinces, and he hit his best critical form in discussing the Liberal record since the 1963 federal election.

The government had found its first budget "no good" and reduced it section by section, he said.

"Usually when a budget is

UBC to Raise Student Fees

VANCOUVER (CP) — Operating costs of the University of British Columbia must double to $40,000,000 annually by 1967 President John B. Macdonald said Tuesday.

Health Minister LaMarsh had promised a national pension scheme, saying Canada would "get the plan in its entirety or me."

"We didn't get the plan," said Mr. Diefenbaker. "We've still got her."

Returning to Finance Minister Gordon, Mr. Diefenbaker said the new minister had advocated more Canadian ownership of industry—"a desirable thing"—but had tried to encourage it through a "farcical type of economic nationalism."

Capital Dries Up

One result was that foreign capital, invested here at a $100,000-a-month rate under the Conservative government, had "dried up to a trickle," said Mr. Diefenbaker.

He said reports showed foreign investment in each of the last three months averaged $33,000.

It was a time for further tax incentives and removal of Liberal-instituted sales taxes. Liberal pledges of economies in administration were hardly borne out by increasing the salaries of MPs to $18,000 and by doubling the salary of the president of the CBC."

Mr. Diefenbaker, who has been on the West Coast for a week, has scheduled constituency conferences, a press conference and one speech today. He flies to Saskatoon Thursday.

Earlier Tuesday, he said the state of East-West relations appears more hopeful than at any time since 1945.

Civil Service Gets Biculturalism School

By RONALD LeBEL

HULL, Que. (CP) — A unique school will open its doors here within a month.

The school will occupy the main floor of a new office building in downtown Hull, across the Ottawa River from the national capital.

The "pupils" will be limited to 30 in number and range in age from 21 to 45. All volunteers, they will be paid more than $100 a week to attend classes.

The school will be operated by the federal government. Half the pupils will be English-speaking, half French-speaking. They will spend eight hours a day learning a second language, French or English, for 10 to 12 weeks. They will have an aptitude to learn languages. All will hold important government jobs where a knowledge of both French and English is valuable.

The school is the first concrete manifestation of the Pearson government's drive to make French a working language in the civil service and make French-Canadians feel at home when they are dealing with or for the government.

ROOMS WELL EQUIPPED

The school will have two classrooms and a modern language laboratory equipped with tape-recorders, sound-proof booths and film projection equipment.

Two teachers will teach English and French according to the latest simplified oral methods.

The principal will be Jean-Marc Hamel, 38, former secretary of the Civil Service Commission and himself fluently bilingual.

Mr. Hamel has been busy since his appointment in November, laying the foundations of the school. He said in an interview Friday that he hopes to begin classes late this month or early in February.

The two teachers and the first 30 pupils remain to be selected.

The various departments and agencies have been asked to submit names of interested officials at their Ottawa headquarters.

The volunteers will be tested for aptitude to learn languages and admitted or rejected by Mr. Hamel. The admitted students will draw their salary as usual.

RIO DE JANEIRO (Reuters) — Two legislators were injured when four shots were fired in the Rio Grande do Norte state assembly Monday.

Liquor-Selling Club Owner Pays $500 Fine

A city dance club owner was fined $500 Monday for selling liquor illegally at the 1206 Club, 1206 Wharf Street, on Nov. 3.

Sidney Travers was convicted on the evidence of a city policeman who went to the club in plainclothes.

Constable Andrew Blaney said he asked Travers if it was possible for him to buy a bottle of liquor. The officer said Travers told him, "I don't know. I have nothing to do with it. Wait here."

Constable Blaney said Travers went away and returned with Howard Hilton. The constable and Hilton negotiated the sale of a bottle which changed hands in the washroom.

Hilton has since been convicted of selling liquor and was fined $300.

WEIRD THIEVES EVEN STOLE A JAIL

By MEADER PATTINGTON

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The year 1963 produced

some outstanding addities in the theft department.

In Alexandria, La., thieves cleaned out one home, including the kitchen sink.

And, in Milpitas, Calif.,

someone walked off with the town's jail, a trailerlike affair on wheels.

A Denver thief, who apparently thought big, took an earth mover, 22 feet long,

10 feet high, 10 feet wide, painted bright yellow. To add on to the large items, a 15-by-25-ft. signboard weighing 1,000 pounds was removed from its foundations in Chattanooga, Tenn. And a three-room display house was stolen in Mobile, Ala.,

along with a German sheep-herd dog purchased as a watchdog.

Another thief in Los Angeles was arrested for stealing a bus, remarking that he had always wanted to drive something big. And, for the third time in four years, a man in Baltimore, was arrested for stealing an airplane.

An auto thief returned a stolen car to a man in San Diego after using it a month, and complained in a wordy letter that it needed new spark plugs, a wheel alignment, a new radio and that the back seat was very uncomfortable.

What did the thieves do with 150 alligators?

cause it was insulated and nearly fireproof.

Food was very much in the 1963 larceny spotlight. In Tucson, Ariz., a returning couple found burglars eating ice cream and drinking milk in their kitchen. Eggs opened a vault in a Fort Worth,

Tex., lumber company. The net take, one pie, placed there for safekeeping by the manager. Another group in Topeka, Kan., looted a home and invited in a stray cat for some milk. And, on the second time for stealing a jar of olives, a thief in Wichita, Kan., was sent to jail for a year.

Police in Phoenix, Ariz.,

surrounded a motel and demanded through a loud-speaker at the rear of their police car, arrested the man underneath who was stealing gasoline.

Police in Wheeling, W. Va., took the prison bloodhound along with them. A kidnapper in Miami telephoned the owner and asked him for the dog's diet.

Some years, it seems, you just can't win.

Lawmen came in for their

a thief stole the battery from a police cruiser in St. Louis.

A judge in Albany, N.Y., had his overcoat stolen, and another judge in Camden, N.J., lost his car. However, two police officers at Coon Rapids,

gasoline.

LOCAL BRIEFS

Gordon Selman of the University of British Columbia, will address the Victoria branch, United Nations Assisting cafeteria tonight at 8 p.m. His subject will be "A Canadian Looks at the United Nations."

Colliding with a parked car and then driving on cost Ernest C. Stuart, 260 Gorge Road East, a total of $135 when he appeared in Esquimalt court Monday.

Evidence showed he hit a car parked on Coville late at night on Jan. 3. He drove on for one block and then left on foot.

Police found him in a nearby coffee shop. He pleaded guilty to careless driving and failing to remain at the scene of an accident.

Esquimalt Dockyard Branch No. 172, Royal Canadian Legion, will meet tonight at 8 p.m. at its hall, 622 Admirals Road.

Life memberships will be presented to Aubrey Jones and Alfred Allnutt at this meeting.

A 50-year-old man who fell through a glass door at the Hudson's Bay store Monday and cut his neck and forehead is reported today in good condition at St. Joseph's Hospital. Robin McIntyre, 2659 Douglas, apparently tripped on the steps while leaving the store. He was given first aid by police before being rushed to hospital.

A young woman was convicted Tuesday of breaking and entering an apartment at 951 Bay Sunday afternoon and stealing two bottles of rum and a bottle of gin.

Vivian Passmore was remanded to Jan. 21 for a probation report and sentence. Evidence was that she had been drinking at the time and that she knew the occupant of the apartment.

A 53-year-old man injured his arms and legs, and possibly broke them, when he fell off the roof of a house under construction at Little Eldon Place Tuesday.

Donald McKenna, 569 Toronto, was rushed to St. Joseph's Hospital by Saanich fire department ambulance. He fell 14 feet to the ground.

A man walked away from his truck Monday night after it tumbled over a 20-foot embankment, rolled several times through the backyard of a house and then came to rest in a swamp.

Ross Hamilton has been elected president of Victoria Motor Sports Club.

Also elected to the executive are Maurice Foord, vice-president; Grant Stephens, secretary, and Bob Low, treasurer. Alan Roberts, Lloyd Mellor, Gerry Warren and Bert Rumsby are directors.

The club will hold its next meeting Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Club Soho, Shelbourne Plaza.

Members of Victoria Silver Threads Service and all old age pensioner groups have been invited to attend a dress rehearsal of "The Gazebo" Friday at 7:30 p.m. in Langham Court Theatre.

A man who stole seven packages of meat from the T. Eaton Co. store said in court Monday that he didn't know why he did it.

Walter Hanaka, 810 Esquimalt, was remanded to Jan. 21 for probation report and sentence.

Lyle Bert Henry, 1476 Gladstone, was sentenced to four months in jail Monday for the theft of a tool box from a car parked on Caledonia Ave., Jan. 5.

Henry was seen by a resident taking the box from the car and was chased. He dropped the box and ran away. The man who chased him later saw Henry on Pandora and called police.

A second conviction for driving while disqualified resulted in a 10-day jail sentence for Kenneth Scott, 3231 Heatherbell, Monday.

The accused was stopped by an Esquimalt policeman in a routine check on Admirals Road recently.

Coffee Prices Still Hold Here

Retail price of coffee remained unchanged in Victoria Tuesday, although the price rose by four cents a pound in Vancouver on Monday.

Spokesmen for a supermarket chain in Victoria quoted the price of a standard brand at 79 cents. In Vancouver, price of the affected brands rose to 83 cents.

Dear Sir:

When I read your advertisement, I rushed right out to buy some Low Cost Garden Fresh Bird Bath Water and have been using it faithfully every since. Each morning, immediately after rising, I massage my scalp thoroughly, using plenty of the water, and follow with a brisk rub with your Health Frozen SOS Pads, using a new pad on each occasion.

While my hair has not been restored by this treatment, my scalp has turned a beautiful red color (everyone notices it) and it shows some promise of producing a fine crop of pin feathers.

Since I am soon planning a trip abroad, and would like to take some of your Bird Bath Water with me, I am wondering if you plan to market the dehydrated product? It would be so convenient for travellers and tourists.

Thank you for your advertisement. My whole life has been changed.

Yours truly,
R. BUCKETT

ISRAELI PLANS to divert water of the River Jordan from the Sea of Galilee to irrigate the Negev Desert to the south are under discussion at the Arab summit meeting in Cairo. (AP Wirephoto Map.)

Arab Summit Ends Yemen War

Cairo (UPI) — Informed sources said today the Arab summit conference, originally called to counter Israeli plans to divert the waters of the River Jordan, has produced a settlement of the civil war in Yemen.

The war is 15 months old. But Tuesday night King Saud of Saudi Arabia, who has been backing Yemini royalists in their bid to reapture the government, met with two of his bitterest opponents in the Middle East—President Gamal Abdel Nasser, of the United Arab Republic, and Abdullah Caial, president of the Republican regime in the Yemen.

Later the sources reported that "the problems in the Yemen are virtually over."

BACKED BY NASSER

Nasser has supported the Yemini Republicans with men and arms since the civil war broke out when Sallal overthrew Yemini Imam El-Badri.

The sources also said talks between King Hassan II of Morocco and President Ahmed Ben Bella of Algeria has led to the "actual liquidation" of their heads of state or their representatives meeting here agreed on an Arab project to develop the tributaries of the Jordan River in Syria, Jordan and Lebanon, according to reports.

An official communiqué is expected after a final session on Thursday.

DIVERSIONS PLANNED

The sources said the conference agreed to begin Arab diversion with the Yarmuk tributary of the river in Jordan. Projects to use the Banias in Syria and the Hasabani in Lebanon will come later.

Conference sources said the Arab leaders have been discussing "military and economic coordination among all Arab states on a more solid basis than before."

But they emphasized military action against Israel is not planned to keep it from diverting the River Jordan. One proposal is to ask the United Nations to review the situation the sources said.

Vet Denied Rezoning For Clinic

Saanich has squashed a plan to build a veterinary clinic on the Pat Bay Highway near Elk Lake.

At a public hearing Monday night, the application of Dr. David Gaunt for necessary rezoning was turned down by council after a letter of complaint from a nearby property owner was read.

Six other rezoning applications came up at the public hearing, and all were passed.

Approved were:

A private instructional swimming pool near Pear and Shelburne; A grocery store at the corner of Donnelly and Shelburne; An archery range at Vanaman and Gladstone; A 75-bed private hospital at Cook and Maplewood; A marine sales and service store at 736 Cloverdale; And a 15-unit motel on the west side of the 5400 block Patricia Bay Highway.

DESTROYERS SHARPEN UP

'Skywatch' Plots Tourist Traffic

By LT-CMDR RAY WORMALD

ABOARD HMCS FRASER—Hawaii's bustling tourist industry has unknowingly assisted fleet preparedness aboard this destroyer escort and the accompanying St. Laurent.

The assistance came in passage from Esquimalt to Pearl Harbor in the course of a training cruise to the Far East.

Taking advantage of heavy commercial air traffic to and from the Hawaiian Islands, the two ships started "Exercise Skywatch."

ON RADAR

The tourist-laden "enemy" planes are quickly detected by air warning radar sets in the two ships. Each plane is instantly tabbed with its own raid number.

Within seconds, vital information about the "raid" is progressively recorded on the main air display plots. This includes data related to each plane's distance from the ships, its course, speed and altitude.

The flow of information on each aircraft is maintained until the plane goes beyond reach of the ship's radar.

At times the radar plotters and others involved are keeping track of up to 12 aircraft at one time. Throughout "Exercise Skywatch," a constant direct radiotelephone link is maintained between Fraser and St. Laurent, with the two ships competing for first aircraft contacts and longest tracking periods.

ONE OF MANY

"Skywatch" is one of many special exercises conducted by both destroyer escorts almost daily since they left Esquimalt on Jan. 7 for a four-month training cruise.

30 Victoria Daily Times WED., JAN. 15, 1964

DEs at Pearl Harbor Midway Next Stop

PEARL HARBOR — Three destroyer escorts of the RCN Pacific Command arrived on schedule at Pearl Harbor Tuesday to complete the first leg of a four-month training cruise to Far Eastern waters.

HMCS Fraser secured in the big United States naval base first. St. Laurent, after exercising with United States naval units, docked later. Delayed a day in sailing from Esquimalt, HMCS Mackenzie made up time on passage and arrived at Pearl Harbor at noon.

Difficulties experienced by two of the ships tested the RCN supply department's ability to deal with logistics problems over long distances.

HMCs Fraser, whose main feed pump developed a fault two days out of Pearl Harbor, found all the necessary parts to make repairs and to replenish spares held on board waiting for her on arrival in Hawaii. A similar service was rendered to HMCS Mackenzie, which suffered damage to underwater fittings in heavy seas. In both cases repair parts were flown to Hawaii from the navy's supply depot in Montreal.

All three ships are scheduled to sail from Pearl Harbor on Thursday for Midway Island, where they will refuel.

The destroy escorts left Esquimalt Jan. 7 on the lengthy cruise. They will visit various ports throughout Southeast Asia and will take part in exercises with other Commonwealth naval units in the Indian Ocean. Fraser and Mackenzie will return to Esquimalt in early May. St. Laurent, to be attached to the Atlantic Fleet, will leave the other two ships in the Indian Ocean and sail for Halifax via the Mediterranean Sea.

High Hopes Held For Pearson Trip

LONDON (UPI) — The Times today said no one was better equipped to handle Prime Minister Pearson to help improve the Atlantic Alliance.

In an editorial on the Canadian leader's trip to Paris, the Times said he had "great gifts" as a diplomat.

"For most leaders of the western alliance reconciling the French and the Anglo-Saxons is a matter of foreign policy. For Mr. Pearson it is a domestic problem as well. A nod from a great nationalist like President de Gaulle would mean a good deal in Quebec."

"Pearson has done his best ... to persuade English-speaking Canadians that their nation should have two cultures in fact as well as in pious aspiration. For this reason alone he is sure of a welcome in Paris."

SOLUTION FRIDAY

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Sybil Burton's Desert Inn's 25-piece orchestra been looking so glamorous these nights that everybody's talking about it. She was wearing sort of a velvet-collared black cape, with black stockings and black patent leather shoes, at Sardi's the other morning with Sexy Rexy Harrison and his wife Rachel Roberts, when they celebrated the opening of the new edition of "Beyond the Fringe." A spectator noticing her platinum blonde hair and her sexy shimmer said, "A guy like Richard Burton could really go for her."

West Indies Disaster Fund Proposed

KINGSTON, Jamaica (Reuters)—Trinidad has proposed a mutual Caribbean assistance organization and disaster fund financed by the United Nations.

The proposal was made Tuesday on the second day of the West Indies summer conference here.

Trinidad said the organization would enable the conference participants—Jamaica, Trinidad, Barbados and British-Guiana—to aid each other "in the event of disaster, hurricanes in particular."

A subcommittee will be formed to look into the proposal and report back to the conference before it ends at the end of the week.

CZECH CITY HELPS JOIN LONELY HEARTS

PRAGUE (Reuters)—The City of Prague plans to play Cupid to the lonely hearts of Czechoslovakia, where the 14,000,000 population has 333,000 more spinsters than bachelors.

A civic marriage bureau opening here today will arrange introductions for lonely Czechs seeking husbands or wives, at home or abroad, Ceteka news agency said Tuesday.

Despite the preponderance of women in the population, Ceteka said, the men were the ones most anxious for spouses.

A Prague newspaper says one 21-year-old farm girl received 194 replies when she advertised for a husband. Male advertisers average between 10 and 25 replies.

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a valuable book or other unusual prizes? Then ask Andy! And he will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes. The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia and the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Andy sends a complete, 20-volume set of World Book Encyclopedia to Debra Venn, age 10, of St. Catharines, Ont., Canada, for her question:

Is there weather on the moon?

There are no cloudy skies above the surface of the moon. But the lunar skies are not heavenly blue like the fair weather skies we see from our planet, the earth. No, snow falls upon the moon, but the cindery ground is often colder than our frosty mornings. There are no showers, but an earth dweller on the moon would need shelter.

Our weather is hatched in a dense layer of air called the troposphere. This restless air enfolds the surface of the globe. It is only 11 miles deep above the equator, and above the poles it reaches up only five miles. Without this blanket of dense air, the earth would have no rain and no cloudy storms, no winds and snowy blizzards.

The moon is not wrapped in a blanket of weatherly air. In fact, it has no atmosphere at all. A few gaseous vapors may or may not escape from its craters, but they soon escape.

Andy Stephen Looks at TV

The first movie-type television show which network executives hope will replace the old movies constantly being repeated is being filmed for NBC-TV at Revue Studio in Hollywood.

Entitled "Johnny North," it's a two-hour melodrama co-starring Lee Marvin, John Cassavetes, Angie Dickinson, Ronald Reagan and Clu Gulager.

Cassavetes, a very intense actor and in the past a critic of television series, says "North" holds the key to better television entertainment. The fact that he's a star on the show naturally colors his opinion, but his quotes lend a conviction which seems based on more than the pay cheque.

"This is an exceptionally well-done melodrama," he said. "I think the only future in television is to do things on a larger level than has been accomplished. Series eventually will be relegated to the afternoon."

Cassavetes is also a director of films. He once said he was quitting the acting business to concentrate on directing.

It was a short-lived retirement.

"We're making a feature movie here for television," he said. "It would cost three times as much to make it for theatres. People work for less in television and the pace is faster. We don't have superstar dressing rooms."

Those who watch changes in television are keeping an eye on the two-hour production. It's being produced as an experiment in future television programming.

"Today" celebrated a dozen years in television Tuesday. There was no great fanfare and hoopla, just another fine early-morning production of stature.

The program in its 12 years has had more than 15,000 guests, 7,500 hours of programming and 3,000 individual programs.

The Monday-through-Friday series (Channel 5 at 7 a.m.) is presided over by suave host Hugh Downs, with the assistance of Jack Lesscoule, Frank Blair and Pat Fontaine.

The wonderful aspect of the show is it attracts important dignitaries from around the globe, from kings to politicians, as well as notables in show business, literature, the arts, sports, religion, humor, music, science, fashions and other fields.

The program has long been a favorite of the U.S. politician.

For example, New York's Governor Nelson Rockefeller formally announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for president on a program viewed last November.

There have been some top moments on the show, especially when interviews were held with such nobles as Jerome Kern, Noel Coward, Buster Keaton, and one, reviewed recently, dealing with a program on western movies with cowboy star Ken Maynard as guest.

Because the show is highly interesting and informative, it is a good way to start the day.

GHANA'S 'REDEEMER'

Road to Marxism Rough for Nkrumah

By KENNETH L. WHITING

ACCRA, Ghana (AP) — Along the road to Marxism the country led by Kwame Nkrumah is running into trouble.

Repeated attempts to kill "the redeemer" help build up an atmosphere of crisis. So do the lists of political prisoners. The economy is in trouble, too.

Thousands of extra police have been on duty here since an assassin tried to kill Nkrumah with a bomb in August, 1962. Cars and trucks entering Accra are searched at road-blocks.

The government reported another attempt on Nkrumah two weeks ago. The removal of Police Commissioner E. R. S. Madjitey and eight other senior officers followed.

An opposition member said in Parliament last year that there were more than 1,000 political prisoners in the country. No one on the benches of the ruling Convention People's Party denied it. The latest attack on Nkrumah has added to the number behind bars.

The doctrine of class struggle is stressed almost daily in newspaper editorials using such phrases as "revolutionary proletariat" and "national bourgeoisie."

"Kwame Nkrumah is to Africa today what Lenin meant to the Soviet Union in 1917," Defence Minister Kofi Baako has told reporters.

IS DICTATOR

The dynamic son of a village goldsmith wields virtually dictatorial powers over 7,000,000 countrymen. His plans for social, political and economic progress occasionally have met opposition. He sees in such opposition a justification for "emergency measures of a totalitarian kind," including a Preventive Detention Act.

The ruling party promotes militant socialism. Much domestic conflict seems to have re-

Student Discount Plan Starts

Two thousand university students start Thursday to take advantage of a special discount price on certain goods and services offered by Victoria businesses.

Preferred treatment, amounting to about 10 per cent on prices at more than a dozen places, was negotiated as part of the advantage of belonging to the Canadian Union of Students. Each member of University of Victoria Alma Mater Society is automatically a member of CUS, which has arranged discounts in other centres.

At most places there will be a standard percentage discount, AMS president Larry Devlin said.

With some businesses, such as service stations, the discount will apply to specific items. There would be no discount on gasoline and oil products, for example, Mr. Devlin said.

The plan is being conducted on a trial basis to establish how well patronized it will be.

"If it is well received we plan to push it and expand next year," the president said.

Not all merchants agree with the idea of offering a special price to students, or any other group.

Service station operator Al Kubicek said he would always give students a fair deal because he realizes they have little money. But if he were to enter a discount plan, then other groups would want the same treatment, he pointed out.

Pension Plan Delayed

TORONTO (CP)—Premier Robarts announced Tuesday he has decided to postpone the implementation of Ontario's provincial pension plan by one year because of the delay in learning details of the federal plan.

COSTLY PAINTINGS DESTROYED IN LONDON

Art Gallery Fire 'Malicious'?

LONDON (Reuters) — Paintings worth hundreds of thousands of pounds were reported badly damaged Monday in a fire at a London west end art gallery.

They included a Canaletto, Roman Scene, said to be worth £35,000 ($105,000).

Police were investigating the possibility that the fire which swept the William Halsbury Galleries in Piccadilly had been started maliciously.

They thought a burning object might have been pushed through an outside ventilator into the basement.

Other paintings damaged by the fire included a Van Dyck, Portrait of a Lady in a Black Dress, and a Boucher, Mother and Child, from the Rothschild collection.

The cheapest of the 45 paintings on the ground and first floor is valued at over £2,000, said Frank Schrecker, a director of the gallery.

The fire started in the basement and spread to the first floor.

Holding a sodden piece of cardboard, gallery managing director Lazar Herner said "that was a Fragonard drawing of the Tivoli."

"It was worth £5,000 and is completely ruined. As far as I can see those paintings which are not damaged are those which are worth the least."

Hooligans also smashed windows in three adjoining shops and set fire to a liquor dealer's office on a nearby street.

'Gov't Uses Kernel of Truth to Blur Issue'

When Prince George social worker Mrs. Bridget Moran threw up her hands in frustration two weeks ago, her revelations shocked most B.C. residents.

But to one interested observer the only wonder was that Mrs. Moran and her colleagues had endured so long in silence.

Miss Ruby McKay of Victoria, former superintendent of child welfare for the province, had gone one step further than Mrs. Moran three years earlier.

For the same reasons which impelled Mrs. Moran to write an open letter to Premier Bennett charging that the whole welfare department was "sick," Miss McKay walked out on a career that had brought her international recognition.

Miss McKay continued in welfare work on the community level in a volunteer capacity. But she had decided:

"It was no longer possible in the face of the government's restrictive policies to fulfill the responsibilities of superintendent of child welfare as I saw them, toward some 5,000 children yearly, whose own parents cannot care for them."

She said then that twice the staff would not be enough.

Today, according to the last provincial budget, there are 239 social workers in the field, four less than there were in 1954, nine years ago.

Then, there was one social worker for every 5,500 people in B.C. Today the ratio is one for every 7,400.

And where the child welfare division administered to approximately 5,000 children when Miss McKay was in charge, the last annual report of the department (year ended March 1962) showed that 7,710 children had come under care.

Anonymous sources within the department have estimated the total now is nudging 10,000.

Mrs. Moran charged that there are no psychiatrists in her area, no specially-trained foster parents, no receiving or detention homes for wayward children, serious cases of neglect are being ignored and mental health facilities are badly needed.

Miss McKay is quick to point out that she has had no direct contact with welfare conditions for three years...and cannot testify herself to the situation outlined by Mrs. Moran.

But she states, "I know Mrs. Moran to be a person of integrity and her sentiments have been expressed by others in the service."

Miss McKay adds that she can recall making recommendations to ease the same problems which are condemned by Mrs. Moran—15 years ago.

Miss McKay says she can agree with government spokesmen who replied to:

Mrs. Moran that most of the deficiencies of the department boil down to a shortage of trained social workers.

"This is true. But the government is using this kernel of truth to blur the issue," says Miss McKay.

She maintains that B.C. social workers who have impossible case loads of 250 to 300 each could be freed from a large part of their work through recruitment of non-university-trained personnel who have matriculation standard and an aptitude for public service.

Such people, says Miss McKay, could provide for example, a kindly, capable service to the mounting number of unemployed people who apply for social assistance on expiration of their unemployment insurance.

In March, 1962, the last month shown in the last annual report, there were 64,426 social allowance recipients. Most of these cases are simply assisted. There is no need for the professional abilities required for instance in the case of an adoption.

Yet each initial application takes up to an hour to process, as well as a varying time for background investigation.

Miss McKay said she can recall seeing an unmarried mother whose delivery was imminent, waiting in an office filled with unemployed men.

"Unemployment is not primarily a welfare problem yet these men flood our offices and everything else has to be dropped. Hunger is a basic need," said Miss McKay.

"I am not blaming the government for unemployment. It's there. But people must be recruited for that job, people who can give kind, understanding, proper treatment, but who are not necessarily trained social workers."

(Thursday, Miss McKay discusses other ways to provide new personnel for social welfare.)

Return Smaller Than in '54 Gas Firm Says

By FRANK RUTTER

The major oil company in B.C. declared Tuesday that it gets less money for a gallon of gasoline than it did 10 years ago.

Imperial Oil Ltd. told the royal commission on gasoline prices that its return is from six-tenths of a cent to 7.3 cents a gallon lower than in 1953 in every B.C. community.

The company said that its rate of return on investment is only 3 per cent in B.C.

"It is neither satisfactory to the company nor competitive with returns available to investment capital elsewhere," the Imperial brief to the commission said.

However, the brief also showed that Imperial's overall rate of return on all operations is 8.2 per cent. Its net earnings for 1963 were $68,400,000.

"Why does a company like Imperial continue to invest in a market when the returns are low?"

Company Hopes for Better Returns

"It does so because over the years it has built up an investment and share of the market which it wants to maintain in the expectation that by sharing in the growth of the province earnings will, over a period of years, return to satisfactory levels," the brief added.

Imperial, with 22.2 per cent, has the largest share of B.C.'s gasoline market.

The 140-page submission is just "an outline" and preliminary statement, lawyer T. E.

Fort Nelson Highest at 57 Cents

The actual amount of money the company gets varies between 17 cents (Victoria and Vancouver) and 24.1 cents (Trail) according to figures in the brief.

The retail price of gasoline in the same communities is between 38.9 and 49.9 cents a gallon. The highest retail price quoted by the company is 57 cents at Fort Nelson, but the return on this is not shown.

The company contended that it is impossible to work out

'EUROPE JUST A TORSO UNLESS BRITAIN JOINS'

(See Page 28)

LONDON (UPI)—Federal Chancellor Ludwig Erhard called today for a united Europe with British participation within the Atlantic partnership.

Erhard made the appeal in a speech at a Mansion House banquet, given in his honor by the Lord Mayor of London.

"Europe will remain a torso unless it is joined by Great Britain," he told the gathering of British and German leaders.

"In the age of technology the British channel cannot be a line of division."

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Antonio Segni of Italy, addressing a joint session of the U.S. Congress today, urged the nations of Western Europe to unite.

"We must, as soon as possible, create the Atlantic partnership; and therefore create, within the Atlantic alliance, a united Europe," the Italian leader said.

Three B.C. University Presidents Coming for Town and Gown Forum

Three of B.C.'s four university presidents will come together for the first time in a public forum on higher education Jan. 31 at University of Victoria.

The meeting will be a keynote of a two-day open house at Gordon Head campus, first showing to the public of its $5,190,886 investment there since the institution gained university status last July.

Leading the seminar, slated

MANY FACETS

Canadian Universities Foundation research director Dr. G. F. Sheffield and University of Victoria English department head Prof. Roger Bishop will complete the speakers to deal with many facets of higher education.

There will be representation in the seminar of persons involved in education and from the community at large, making it a "town and gown" discussion.

TAYLOR EXPECTED

New University of Victoria president Dr. Malcolm G. Taylor is expected to make his first visit to the campus since his appointment last month during the open house affair. He is serving out his term as president of the University of Alberta at Calgary.

Willard Ireland, of UVic board of governors, will chair the meeting and chancellor Judge J. B. Cleary will be present.

The public will be shown in guided tours Feb. 1 and 2 the campus as developed and as planned.

They will see building and site development completed with a value of $3,792,739, another $1,398,146 worth under construction and a further $1,416,850 worth of planned work.

SOME FINISHED

A classroom block, student union building and science building are finished, the library is well under way, residences begun and a science lecture theatre about to begin.

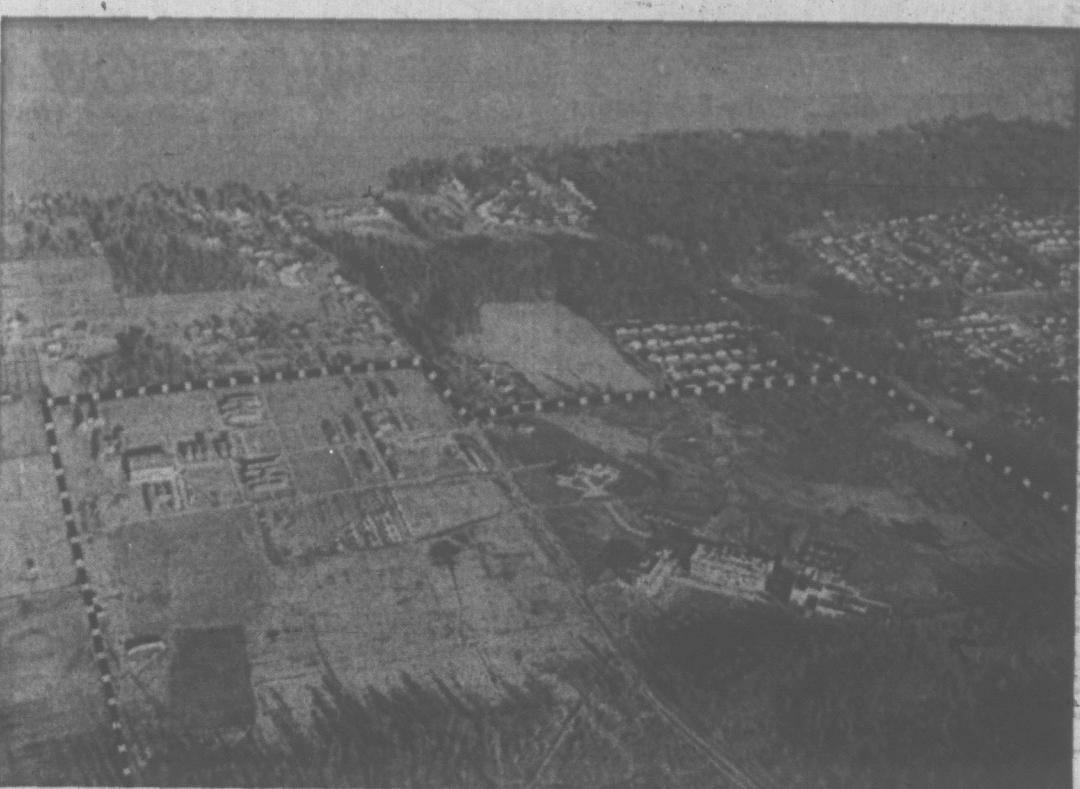

There will be expenditures for furnishing and landscaping in the new campus circle that will finish off the first university development program.

ON DISPLAY

The second development program, due to begin this year, will be detailed as part of a display by the development board.

Sixteen other university departments in arts and science and the faculty of education will have table and wall displays covering a broad range of academic endeavors. Some will conduct practical demonstrations.

Up to 10,000 persons are expected to take advantage of the open house.

Arthur Mayse

Before anyone else suggests to me that the current hit, "Something to Sing About", would make a fine new Canadian anthem, here's one chilly fact to consider.

That ardent, patriotic song with its swinging tune, and its lyric which dwells tenderly on maple trees, wheat fields and all, is Canadian only by adoption.

It's a remake, cunningly styled for the Dominion melody market, of an American ballad which originally hymned the beauties of the U.S.A. from California to Rhode Island, or maybe it was Manhattan. Naturally, it's been changed to accommodate a bundle of provincial place names.

The procedure is entirely legal, of course, and we in Canada should be grateful that so gifted a folk singer as Oscar Brand sees fit to praise our country with this retreat lay.

Still, it does lend poignancy to a question which has puzzled me at intervals ever since I was old enough to join a class of toddlers in a typical, mournful rendition of "The Ma... pul Lea Fu reva!"

Why has nobody ever at any time, either before or after Confederation, managed to dower Canada with a singable national song?

The best we've yet been able to offer, heaven help us, is "Alouette," and come to think of it, we didn't originate that one, either. It's a steal from Old France.

I'm not a song-writer, so don't look to me for a piece which will help correct the impression that Canadians are a real sad bunch except when turned loose on an expense account in Miami.

It's the bold young blades, the university students and such, who should be giving out with the songs our nation needs if we're to bind salmonbelly, herring-choker and provincials of every other persuasion in the same love-knot.

But do they? Will they? Uh-uh! Not those golden lads! Too busy listening while some damnyarn folk singer rhymes "Alberta highland" with "Vancouver Island."

A while ago, this corner saluted Hardy Brothers, the British firm of fishing tackle specialists who through war and peace, good years and bad, have delighted anglers

TOPICS of the DAY

There are still openings in the YM-YWCA creative arts course for children, instructor Beverly Barks said today.

The course, open to boys and girls in the elementary school age group, encompasses drama, art and exercise. First of the 10 two-hour sessions will be held Saturday at 10 a.m. Fee is 25 cents per session.

Oak Bay traffic committee is requesting that the headmaster of Glenlyon Boys' School instigate safety traffic patrols at the San Carlos crosswalk on Beach Drive.

Glenlyon is one of the few schools where the students do not take part in patrol duty.

The request arose following an accident in which a student was injured crossing the street.

Vegetables, fruit and other produce is desperately needed for the surplus food stall on Saturday.

Organizer Mrs. E. E. Harper said, "the response has been low and I have 225 families on my list who need a little extra social assistance."

Doors of the surplus food stall at 732-A Cormorant St. will open Saturday at 11 a.m.

Anyone wishing to donate food should phone Mrs. Harper at GR 4-1750 for pick-up service.

A 26-year-old woman was discharged from hospital after treatment for bruises received when her car overturned at Pandora and Cook shortly after midnight Tuesday.

Mrs. Beverley Samson, 3203 Doncaster, told police she swerved to avoid a car that drove through a red light at the intersection.

Kurt Brauner, no fixed address, was sent to jail for three months for stealing tobacco and cigarettes from Shop Easy store, 230 Cook.

Brauner, whose trial was postponed several times, said he had the smokes in his briefcase when he went into the store. An employee testified he saw Brauner hide the tobacco and cigarettes in the briefcase.

A man convicted for the second time of impaired driving was given a 20-day jail sentence Tuesday in city magistrate's court.

Leslie Painter, 1700 Cedar Avenue, was arrested Dec. 30 when he was involved in an accident at Hillside and Cook.

He denied he had been drinking but he was unsteady on his feet; his breath smelled of alcohol and his eyes were glassy, according to police evidence.

Oak Bay public works committee turned down a petition for local improvement of Midland Road as immediate development of the area would not warrant such an expenditure.

Plans have been made for the improvement of Midlands which would make Musgrave a north-south arterial road but the revenue from the area involved would not pay for the cost of improvement at this time.

A man was convicted Tues day in city court of theft, two months after the offence occurred.

City Hall spokesman this morning said the two groups will set up committees to "iron out the details" of turning over the Bastion Square Courthouse to the museum when it is vacated at the end of this year as a temporary City Hall.

Indications are that moving the museum from its present Esquimalt Road location into the downtown tourist area should substantially increase patronage.

Return Smaller Than in '54 Gas Firm Says

By FRANK RUTTER

The major oil company in B.C. declared Tuesday that it gets less money for a gallon of gasoline than it did 10 years ago.

Imperial Oil Ltd. told the royal commission that its return is from six-tenths of a cent to 7.3 cents a gallon lower than in 1953 in every B.C. community.

The company said that its rate of return on investment is only 3 per cent in B.C.

Company Hopes for Better Returns

"It does so because over the years it has built up an investment and share of the market which it wants to maintain in the expectation that by sharing in the growth of the province earnings will, over a period of years, return to satisfactory levels," the brief added.

Imperial, with 22.2 per cent, has the largest share of B.C.'s gasoline market.

The 140-page submission is just "an outline" and preliminary statement, lawyer T. E.

Fort Nelson Highest at 57 Cents

The actual amount of money the company gets varies between 17 cents (Victoria and Vancouver) and 24.1 cents (Trail) according to figures in the brief.

The retail price of gasoline in the same communities is between 38.9 and 49.9 cents a gallon. The highest retail price quoted by the company is 57 cents at Fort Nelson, but the return on this is not shown.

The company contended that it is impossible to work out

When Prince George social worker Mrs. Bridget Moran threw up her hands in frustration two weeks ago, her revelations shocked most B.C. residents.

But to one interested observer the only wonder was that Mrs. Moran and her colleagues had endured so long, in silence.

Miss Ruby McKay of Victoria, former superintendent of child welfare for the province, had gone one step further than Mrs. Moran three years earlier.

For the same reasons which impelled Mrs. Moran to write an open letter to Premier Bennett charging that the whole welfare department was "sick," Miss McKay walked out on a career that had brought her international recognition.

Then, there was one social worker for every 5,500 people in B.C. Today the ratio is one for every 7,400.

And where the child welfare division administered to approximately 5,000 children when Miss McKay was in charge, the last annual report of the department (year ended March 1962) showed that 7,710 children had come under care.

Anonymous sources within the department have estimated the total now is nudging 10,000.

Mrs. Moran charged that there are no psychiatrists in her area, no specially-trained foster parents, no receiving or detention homes for wayward children, serious cases of neglect are being ignored and mental health facilities are badly needed.

Miss McKay is quick to point out that she has had no direct contact with welfare conditions for three years and cannot testify herself to the situation outlined by Mrs. Moran.

But she states: "I know Mrs. Moran to be a person of integrity and her sentiments have been expressed by others in the service."

Miss McKay adds that she can recall making recommendations to ease the same problems which are condemned by Mrs. Moran—15 years ago.

Miss McKay says she can agree with government spokesmen who replied to Mrs. Moran that most of the deficiencies of the department boil down to a shortage of trained social workers.

"This is true. But the government is using this kernel of truth to blur the issue," says Miss McKay.

In March, 1962, the last month shown in the last annual report, there were 64,426 social allowance recipients. Most of these cases are simply assisted.

There is no need for the professional abilities required for instance in the case of an adoption.

Yet each initial application takes up to an hour to process, as well as a varying time for background investigation.

Miss McKay said she can recall seeing an unmarried mother whose delivery was imminent, waiting in an office filled with unemployed men.

"Unemployment is not primarily a welfare problem yet these men flood our offices and everything else has to be dropped. Hunger is a basic need," said Miss McKay.

"I am not blaming the government for unemployment. It's there. But people must be recruited for that job, people who can give kind understanding, proper treatment, but who are not necessarily trained social workers."

(Thursday, Miss McKay discusses other ways to provide new personnel for social welfare.)

Queen's Canada Visit Set for Mid-October

OTTAWA (CP)—The Queen now is expected to visit Charlottetown and Quebec City during the second week in October, reliable informants said today.

Official announcement of the Queen's travel plans probably will be made after delivery of her fourth child, expected in late February or early March.

Ottawa officials had hoped earlier that the Queen would visit Charlottetown on Sept. 1 to mark the 100th anniversary of the opening of the Charlottetown Conference which led to Confederation in 1867.

It was thought that she would visit Quebec City a few days after that.

Reliable informants however, now say the Queen's tentative plan is to arrive in Charlottetown about Oct. 7 and to be in Quebec City on Oct. 10.

PEARSON TELLS FRENCHCanada Wants To Bolster Ties

PARIS (Reuters)—Prime Minister Pearson said tonight Canada wishes to strengthen and develop her political, economic and cultural ties with France.

Pearson, replying to a toast by President de Gaulle at an Elysee Palace banquet, said:

"We believe that this can be done to our mutual benefit and in harmony with that wider grouping of nations (NATO) in which both countries participate and which is essential to maintain in this small crowded world where each nation can only preserve its national values and its national survival by co-operating with others to ensure peace and security."

The prime minister, who earlier had a private talk with de Gaulle on world problems, added: "We, in Canada, feel that France must play a leading part in the co-operative search for peaceful and constructive solutions."

Pearson said that Canada by her history, by the language and tradition of many of her people, is part of France.

"But France is also part of Canada," he said. "One-hundred thousand Canadian soldiers who rest in peace in this sacred soil have made it so."

He added: "The Canadian people have cherished the ties with their two mother countries. We do not forget that we are the inheritors of the best in Western civilization, as we develop our own national life in the vast panorama of North America."

Earlier, Pearson expressed the wish that France remain a strong and clear voice in NATO.

Pearson, accompanied by External Affairs Minister Martin, was greeted on arrival by French Prime Minister Georges Pompidou who said he hopes the four-day visit of the Canadian prime minister will strengthen economic and Anti-integrationist Governor George Wallace, of Alabama, will make a flying trip to University of Victoria Thursday to address a political science forum.

It will be an unplanned trip coming at the end of a five-state tour of the west explaining his state's views on segregation of black and white races.

The governor will speak at noon in the Student Union Building at Gordon Head campus. He will be asked to hold a question period for the last quarter of the hour allotted to the forum.

It is expected the controversial governor, who opposes school integration and is at war with the U.S. Congress on the issue, will fly into Patricia

"This is true. But the government is using this kernel of truth to blur the issue," says Miss McKay.

She maintains that B.C. social workers who have impossible case loads of 250 to 300 each could be freed from a large part of their work through recruitment of non-university-trained personnel who have matriculation standard and an aptitude for public service.

Such people, says Miss McKay, could provide for example, a kindly, capable service to the mounting number of unemployed people who apply for social assistance on expiration of their unemployment insurance.

"This is true. But the government is using this kernel of truth to blur the issue," says Miss McKay.

Mother, Lame Son Killed As Car Jumps Sidewalk

VANCOUVER (CP) — Mrs. Cecilia Cassidy, 34, and her eight-year-old crippled son, Mitchell, were fatally injured Tuesday night when a car ran out of control, mounted a curb and plunged into a group of people at a bus stop in suburban Burnaby.

A third person, Mrs. J. M. Robb, was also struck and suffered leg and shoulder injuries.

Police said the car was driven by Mrs. Florence Alard, who received her driver's licence only 10 days ago. She was in a state of shock and was treated at hospital, then released.

About 12 persons were either waiting at the bus stop or walking past, and they scattered as the car mounted the curb and struck Mrs. Cassidy and her son, who was on crutches as a result of hip injuries suffered when he fell off his bicycle some time ago.

The car came to a halt half a block away.

Mrs. Cassidy died with her son outside a drug store where she had worked for the last three months and only three blocks from her home. They were hurled 50 feet by the impact.

Judge C. W. Morrow of Prince George, the sole commissioner, Tuesday said he expected public hearings will extend into at least August.

The hearings opened Monday at the Law Courts here.

They move Thursday to Nanaimo: Then begins a swing across the province to include many major centres.

Judge Morrow suggested that a second round of hearings may be held in Victoria early in April.

But, he added, he anticipates the commission's "major effort" will be when the province's law courts are clear, in the summer months.

Even if the hearings wind up in August, it will still take some time, possibly months, for the judge to prepare a report.

Imperial said its prices are set on the basis of costs and competition combined.

In some cases, where dealers sell gas on consignment, Imperial sets the retail price "because it is acting in these cases as the final retailer," the brief said.

"In most cases, however, it is the dealer who sets this price."

Imperial says there are 3,220 gas stations in B.C. It owns 158, part-finances another 171, and 89 are operated by Esso agents.

There are 30 brands of gasoline line available.

"No motorist is dependent on either one service station or one brand of gasoline.

Imperial blamed gas price wars on the rise of independent retailers, which was greatly affected by the entry into the market of department stores selling at big discounts.

The difference of gas prices across the province, Imperial said, is caused by many factors, including transportation, handling, "and the differences in the individual judgment of Pearson said he hopes his talks with de Gaulle may lead to even closer accord between us within the framework of the Atlantic alliance.

The state visit to France almost certainly marks the beginning of a new emphasis on Franco-Canadian links.

One impulse in that direction is Canada's increasing awareness of her bicultural nature.

When Pearson visited London last summer, he promised that before long he would be going to Canada's "other" mother country, France.

The visit also underlines the changing pattern of power relationships in Europe. France, slow to recover from her 1940 defeat, is rapidly recovering her old self-confidence and de Gaulle's aggressive policies make her an important, if often awkward, ally.

Diplomats in Paris say that Quebec is "reaching out" increasingly to France as part of its current ferment. During his stay here Pearson will visit the official Quebec provincial government office, headed by Charles Lussier.

Seattle was Governor Wallace's last stop in a five-state tour to explain the southern viewpoint on integration.

He will hold a press conference at 11 a.m. and speak to students at 12 noon, both in the Student Union Building.

He will fly directly back to Alabama Thursday afternoon, following luncheon there.

VANCOUVER (CP) — Free tuition for university students is advocated by Dr. John B. MacDonald, president of the University of British Columbia.

Dr. MacDonald said some of the U.S. states and many other countries provide free higher education.

NEW YORK (AP) — Bitter cold added woe to misery today as the eastern half of the United States continued to dig out of its worst snowstorm of the winter.

Thousands of motorists and others were stranded and more than 140 deaths were blamed on the blizzard-like onslaught.

New York City sanitation men, 8,000 strong, were bolstered from 3,000 extra hired at $2 an hour to shovel snow from streets.

In the south, Florida citrus growers made ready heaters for the lowest temperatures — 23 in Jacksonville and 42 in Miami Beach — since a crop-killing freeze 13 months ago.

Temperatures dropped elsewhere also — to 11 below zero early today in Albany, N.Y. Biting winds made it seem even colder.

Scores died from over-exposure or exposure as they shovelled snow, tried to dig out stuck autos or trudged through the deep expanse of white.

Among thousands marooned by the storm were hundreds of motorists in Indiana, Illinois and on New York City's Belt Parkway. Buses rescued the latter group. The others began to move again as conditions eased.

Also stranded were 3,000 persons including many Canadians at New York's Kennedy International Airport, which delayed, cancelled or diverted 775 flights.

Youngstown, Ohio, got 16 inches of snow, heaviest in six years; Albany, N.Y., got 15 inches, heaviest 24-hour fall for any January on record; Washington, D.C., received nine inches, heaviest in more than five years.

The cold weather covered nearly all sections of the country, with temperatures generally below freezing except in southern Florida, southern Texas, the extreme southwestern areas and along the Pacific coast.
